

Preps Launch '69 Grid Campaign on Friday

MAY OUR FLAG EVER WAVE—Members of Romulus Sunshine Club and local officials attended brief ceremonies Aug. 25, re-activating the club's Community Flag Pole, located on Goddard Road opposite the Romulus Branch of the Manufacturers National Bank. The flag pole had fallen into misuse as club membership dwindled and present club members assumed other duties and advanced in years. The bank announced that it will henceforth maintain and care for the flag pole. Above officials shown with the club members are left to right: Alfred J. Perry, township clerk; Roderick E. Smith, Township supervisor; and Leo Kalota, second vice president of Manufacturers and manager of the Romulus Branch.

Family and Neighborhood Services Supervisor Named

ROMULUS—Alton M. Shelly has been appointed Area Supervisor of the Family and Neighborhood Services, located at 37064 Goddard Road, Torch Drive Service.

Shelly who was born in Greenville, Pa., is 34. He and his wife, Elisabeth, and their three sons, Karl, Martin and Glen reside in Wayne.

Educated at Bluffton College and Ohio State University, Shelly brings with him a background of social work with children and family units. He also has

"My first goal with the Family and Neighborhood Services," said Shelly, "is to try to understand the problems and learn more about the people." I have a lot to learn and face this with a lot of humility," he said. The area he hopes to serve is a large one, encompassing Romulus, Van Buren, Huron and Sumpter townships.

Shelly explained that his agency was no longer content to wait for families to come to the office for help but that they wished to reach out into the community through informal discussion groups and personal contacts. In this way there would be an opportunity to explore the special problems.

HE ENVISIONED family counseling being done in small informal groups, building on the idea that families have strengths that are often not put into effect. By exchanging experiences and information, he hopes they will realize that they have much to give one another. Then, as the problems are identified, according to Shelly, action can be taken to correct them.

Additional staff members of the Family and Neighborhood Services are: Mrs. Ardath Gorker, secretary, Mrs. Geneva Clark, and Miss Carmene Smith, social workers.

Albert B. Greca Gets Promotion

ROMULUS—Thomas M. Greca, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Greca, 39307 Wabash, has been promoted to Army specialist four (Aug. 9) while serving as a truck driver with the 1st Logistical Command's 446th Transportation Company near Long Binh, Vietnam.

Romulus Building Jumps in August

ALTON M. SHELLY organizational and supervisory experience.

Between 1955 and 1957, Shelly worked in a voluntary service program, under the sponsorship of the Mennonite Church, which took him to Germany. There, he worked on East Germany refugee housing projects.

HE SERVED in a leadership capacity in international work camps in Austria and the Netherlands also working with youth groups at a church conference center.

ROMULUS—The Romulus Building Department reported an increase in building during August.

Building permits issued in the month call for an estimated construction cost of $1,670,473, as against $1,582,040 in July, Joseph B. Gallagher, manager of the Building Department, reported.

Residential building in August totaled $1,467,850 compared with $480,540 in July. There were 48 one family houses approved for $544,875; Apartment building totaled $900,000.

THE TOTAL number of permits including other than building was 284 and fees charged amounted to $10,378, Gallagher said.

Industrial building in August was off compared with July.

In August two permits for industrial building were issued for a construction cost of $171,600.

In July industrial building was estimated at $1,070,000 which included expansion program of Federal Screw Works Plant in Romulus.

Salary Schedules Show Increases

Employment Pact Contains An Agency Shop Provision

By Henry Cantin
ANP Staff Writer

ROMULUS—A new 1969-70 teacher contract embracing raises in salary schedules was approved by the Board of Education of the Romulus Community School District and the Romulus Education Association.

The master agreement, covering teacher employment conditions and policies, was unanimously approved by the teachers at a ratification meeting held last Tuesday morning, Sept. 2.

The School Board authorized contract adoption at its meeting Monday night, Sept. 8.

The new teacher contract terms were arrived at by negotiators at a fact finding session held under the direction of George T. Roumell, Jr., of the State Labor Mediation Board.

The Romulus Education Association, representing the school district's 280, plus teaching staff, had requested a state fact finding hearing.

The School Board agreed. This was after numerous sessions by the negotiating teams failed to bring a settlement.

THE AGREED upon salary schedule is as follows:

Teachers having Bachelor of Arts degree have a salary scale of $7,500, to a ten step maximum of $12,000 a year raise of $600 to the starting range.

Teachers with Master of Arts degree have a pay range of $8,500 to a ten step maximum of $13,900, an increase over the 1968-69 contract of $400 to $1,700. Specialists have a pay scale of $9,500 to a ten step maximum of $14,900, a similar boost when compared with last year's teaching contract.

EXISTING FRINGE benefits covering hospital-medical insurance, retirement and severance pay remain unchanged.

These benefits also include release time for the president of the Association to conduct Association business, William E. Jankad, assistant school superintendent and chief negotiator for the Board of Education reported.

The new contract contains an agency shop clause which requires teachers not affiliated with the Association to pay the equivalent of Association dues as a stipulation of teacher employment.

Under this clause teachers have to pay or be dismissed at the end of the year, it was said.

THE NEW contract restores adjustments made and positions eliminated in cut backs of a year ago.

The new school year opened this year on time and with the following restored services:

Full program in the Senior and Junior High School athletics, plus restoration of deleted teaching positions at all levels.

In addition music, art and physical education in elementary schools have been restored this year.

The school district also opened 16 new classrooms, eight at Cory Elementary School and eight at Mt. Pleasant Elementary School, Robert L. McConaghy, school superintendent, announced.

Jaycees Centennial Ball Set

ROMULUS—A Centennial Ball under the sponsorship of the Huron Township Jaycees will be held on Sept. 13 starting at 9 p.m. The public is invited.

The ball will be held in the Wayne County Sportsman Hall, located on Inkster Road.

Refreshments will be served and music will be provided by the Art Wyse Orchestra.

THE BALL, officials stated, will be a good opportunity to wear Centennial clothes, but costumes are not required.

Proceeds from the event will go to the Scholarship Fund. Donations will be $8 per couple, or $5 single.

Tickets may be purchased from Jaycee members, or at the door.

Hospital Association Gets Grant

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Special Release)—Senators Philip Hart (D), and Robert Griffin (R) of Michigan, have announced the awarding of a $31,780 United States Public Health Service contract to the Lansing based Michigan Hospital Association to compile the results of its eleven annual searches for new hospital achievements.

BELLEVILLE—Rudy J. Schwarzer, famed chef, is dead at the age of 46.

Mr. Schwarzer, confidant and associate of a number of international culinary experts died last Saturday in Annapolis General Hospital, Wayne, after a short illness.

At the time of his death, Mr. Schwarzer, of 16094 Haggerty Road, was the chef at the Detroit Flight Kitchen of United Air Lines at Metro Airport.

His guests have included Presidents Nixon and Eisenhower, former Vice President Humphrey, the Crown Prince of Japan, the president and members of the Swiss Parliament, and numbers of motion picture and stage personalities.

HE ENTERED the United States in 1951, after progressing in food education his wife, Doris; mother, Mrs. Elise Schwarzer of Switzerland; a brother, Henry Schwarzer of Carson City, Nevada; and a sister, Mrs. Hedy Schneider of Switzerland.

He has supervised preparation of 3,000 meals and snacks daily for the airline, and personally served a number of presidents, princes, diplomats and movie stars.

His guests have included Presidents Nixon and Eisenhower, former Vice President Humphrey, the Crown Prince of Japan, the president and members of the Swiss Parliament, and numbers of motion picture and stage personalities.

HE ENTERED the United States in 1951, after progressing in food education and service in Europe, Africa and South America.

He joined United Air Lines in 1958 and became Chef at the Detroit Flight Kitchen in early 1966.

He served his cook apprenticeship in one of the best restaurants in Bern, Switzerland, owned by New York Metropolitan Opera star, Lisa Della Casa, and her father.

CHEF SCHWARZER progressed in food education as Entremetier, Rotisseur, Garde Manger, and Saucier in various restaurants and hotels, including the Carlton Elite, in Zurich, and the Grand Hotel Kurhaus, in Engelberg.

After entering the United States, he worked in hotels and resorts in Palm Springs, New York, Los Angeles and Seattle.

Romulus Soldier Killed in Vietnam

ROMULUS—Army Specialist Four Ronnie J. Petre, 21, was killed in Vietnam while on a combat mission, his parents were informed by United States Army officials Saturday.

Specialist Four Petre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Ruth) Petre, of 6112 Middlebelt Road, entered the military service in June, 1967, and was sent to Vietnam five months ago. Details of his combat mission are forthcoming, his parents said.

A graduate of Romulus High School (1966 class), Petre, the only son, was assigned to the Second Battalion Eight Infantry Cavalry Company B.

Funeral arrangements are to be arranged by Uht

Memorial Funeral Home, 35400 Glenwood Avenue, Westland. Burial is to be in Cadillac Memorial Gardens West, 34224 Ford Road, Garden City.

Sumpter Homeowners Member Answers Charges

Sumpter-A member and chairman of the Publicity Committee for the United Homeowners Association of Sumpter Township, Richard Krajewski, has issued a reply to recent statements made by Sumpter Township Supervisor William Gouger.

The Association was named defendant last week in a $100,000 damage suit filed in Wayne County Circuit Court by former supervisor Mike Kozma. Krajewski stated: You have stated that our Association charter is commendable you must not understand it because when I asked you to appoint me as a deputy registrar so I could help build a better township to live in by getting the citizens to register to vote, you stated that there is no election to be held and there is no need to appoint a deputy registrar.

I THINK you should be concerned at all times to get the citizens to register to vote whether there is an election or not. This is part of your responsibility to see that it was done when you were clerk.

You stated that you resigned once, then why did the Township Board accept Mrs. Quimby's resignation on July 22, 1969, and reappointed you as clerk the same day, or are the Township Board's minutes incorrect? Then you were appointed supervisor on the same day. You also stated after talking to some people in Romulus that they seem very glad I moved out.

It seems that you don't check out anything before you make a statement. Just like Romulus' rubbish pick-up, and other statements you have made. You don't take time to check it out to find out the truth.

THE TRUTH of why I moved out of Romulus is you or I can't stop progress. The property I owned was bought for a gas station where the new I-296 highway is coming through. An interchange is to be built.

You remind me of some of the people you talk to in Romulus. They just can't stand progress. When I lived in Romulus, property sold for $150 an acre, try to buy some property in Romulus at that price now.

We also had no industry, no water and no sewers until efforts were taken by the citizens and cooperation of the Romulus Township Board that made Romulus what it is today. And if I was some help to make Romulus what it is today, then I hope to help, Sumpter Township in the same way.

The only way I can see to help Sumpter Township to progress is through the United Homeowners Association of Sumpter where citizens have a voice to make a better community that is why the U.H.O.A.S. is growing larger every day.

Paraprofessionals Go Back to School

NEW BOSTON--Seventeen teacher aides from the six school districts of Airport, Flat Rock, Gibraltar, Grosse Ile, Huron and Woodhaven went back to school for a day. The more commonly used term today for teacher aides is paraprofessionals.

These paraprofessionals attended an orientation session at Simson Junior High School, Flat Rock, from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m., on Wednesday, Aug. 27. This program was sponsored by the six school cooperative, Title One E.S.E.A.

Luke Wegienka, director of federal programs for the cooperative, arranged the program through the Wayne County Intermediate School District. Dr. Arnold Glovinsky on the staff of the Wayne County Intermediate School District planned and conducted the session. Wegienka is assistant superintendent of Huron School District.

THE PURPOSE for such an orientation session was to afford an opportunity for the paraprofessionals to work out problems that would be meaningful to their own situation. In addition to working on individual problems they heard from other staff members of the Paraprofessional Training Project.

Those attending the orientation session were: Flat Rock: Virginia Bone, Alice Winsjansin, Ruth Vack, and Margo Brodie; Gibraltar: Irene Hoy, Kathy Oestrike, and Sue McCourt; Grosse Ile: Lucille Johnson, Stephanie Stoneburner, and Cherry Ryder; Huron: Ruth Billmeyer, Thelma Curry, and Helen Marshall; Woodhaven: Rilda Holland, Bonnie Carr, Mary Lee Steinhauer and Karen Bock; Airport: a member school of the Title One cooperative did not have anyone in attendance.

OPENING CEREMONIES--Eugene Strobel, special projects coordinator for the Wayne County Community College (right) opened registration at the Huron High School Center of the Community College last Thursday. He is shown with Byron Antcliff, superintendent of Huron Township School District. The center is located at 24820 Merriman Road, at Huron River Drive.

Being in business today isn't easy.

This will make it a lot easier.

MASTER CHARGE, America's busiest charge card, is coming to Detroit to make business easier for everybody—merchant and shopper alike.

Hundreds of thousands of people in the Detroit area will soon join the growing army of over 20 million MASTERCHARGE cardholders nationally. With 500,000 businesses in 18 countries and in all 50 states, shoppers can use MASTER CHARGE in more ways to buy more things than any other card. Billing is once a month. There are no membership fees. And MASTER CHARGE cards are fully insured against loss or theft.

As for merchants with Bank of the Commonwealth MASTER CHARGE service, you'll have fewer receivables. Sales slips are as good as cash. Billing problems decrease. Collections are no longer a problem.

And the easiest part of all is bringing MASTER CHARGE into your business. If someone from Commonwealth hasn't called you yet, pick up the phone and call us at 548-5610, -5620, -5638.

Romulus Charter Group Finishes Election Chapter

ROMULUS—The Romulus Charter Commission, at its last regular meeting, completed the chapter of elections, as follows: Qualifications of an elector: Each person having the qualifications of an elector in the state of Michigan shall be entitled to register as an elector of the city of Romulus.

Election Procedure: The election shall be on a non-partisan basis and the general election laws of the state shall apply to control all procedures relating to regulations and city elections, except as otherwise provided in the charter.

Notice of Elections and Petitions: Notice of time and place of holding any election shall be given by the clerk in some manner as provided in state election statute by the giving of notice to the clerk.

Clerk shall publish notice of the last day permitting for the filing of nominating petitions at least one week before and not more than three weeks before that date.

Primary Elections and Nominations: The primary election for the nomination of candidates to elective offices shall be held on the second Monday in September preceding the regular municipal election.

Regular City Elections: A regular city election shall be held on the second Monday in November of 1971 and on the second Monday in November every two years thereafter.

Special elections: Special elections shall be held when called by resolution of the council at least 45 days in advance of such election or when required by charter or the state.

Voting Hours: The polls for all primary, regular and special elections shall be open from 7 a.m. and shall remain open until 8 p.m.

Candidates for elective office: They shall be nominated at a primary election, provided, however, that whenever the number of candidates for nomination to any office does not exceed twice the number of candidates for that office, no primary election for that office shall be held and the candidates for that office shall be deemed as nominated for the general election.

Statement of Candidacy: Any person desiring to become a candidate for nomination to any elective office at any primary election shall file with the clerk a statement of such candidacy in the form outlined in the charter.

Each candidate shall file a petition bearing the signature of at least 150 and not more than 300 registered electors. A supply of official petition and declaration forms shall be provided by the clerk.

Approval of Petition; Notification of Candidate: The clerk shall accept only nominating petitions which conform with forms provided and contain the required number of valid signatures required for that office.

Immediately after making the determination of validity, the clerk shall give written notice to each candidate as to whether they are valid or invalid. Those being valid are certified and placed on the ballot for the primary election.

Ballots: Ballots for elections shall conform to state election law, except that they shall carry on party designation. The Election Commission shall provide for printing of ballots.

Election Commission: An election commission is created, consisting of the Council, Chairman, City Clerk and Mayor. The member shall serve without compensation. The clerk shall be chairman and two members shall be a quorum.

Duties of Election Commission: They will be in charge of all equipment and supplies for the conduct of elections.

Election Officials when city election is held on same day as state or county elections: If city election is held on same day as a state or county election, the same election officials shall act in all elections.

Appointment and compensation of Election Inspectors: The clerk shall appoint for each precinct an inspector who shall preside as chairman.

The election commission shall appoint such additional inspectors as it may determine from a list of nominees submitted to election commission by any or all elected officials. Compensation for inspectors shall be fixed by the Council.

Canvass of Elections and Names on Ballots: The city council shall convene at its regular meeting place at 8 p.m. within three days following each election, and shall publicly canvass the results of each election and determine what persons have been nominated or elected to each office.

The clerk shall notify within five days in writing, by certified mail, the successful aspirants to nomination or office.

Election by Lot in Case of Tie Vote: If two or more persons have equal number of votes, the Council shall determine the winning candidate by lot as provided in state law.

Propositions Submitted at Primary Elections: Any question or proposition which may be submitted at any election may be submitted at a primary election.

Recount: A recount of the votes cast at any city election for any office or upon any proposition may be had in accordance with election statutes.

Recall: Any elected official may be recalled from office by the electors in the manner provided by statute. A vacancy created by a recall shall be filled in the manner prescribed by the charter.

General Election Laws: General election laws of the state, when applicable, shall apply to all elections in the city except when in conflict, then the provisions of the charter shall control.

Wards and Precincts: The city of Romulus shall consist of one ward. The previous precincts established by the township shall continue until changed, pursuant to state law.

The next Charter Commission meeting will be held tonight (Wednesday) Sept. 10 at the Water and Sewer Building, Bibbins and Shook Roads, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Invited guests will be Smythe and Associates and the Romulus Township Board. Members were also asked to ask attorneys to submit letters pertaining to the job of working with the commission on the final draft of the charter.

Livonia Should Appeal Half-Day Decision

The eyes of the State's school districts and its residents are looking to the half day situation in the Livonia Public Schools.

The people of the State are watching to see how Livonia will handle the decision of Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman who ruled last week that half days cannot be used as a money saving device by local school boards.

The people are looking at Livonia to see if Livonia will go ahead and implement the Judge's decision, even though it may mean emasculating the District's total education program or it may mean illegal deficit spending, or it may mean both.

The Livonia Board is presently considering an appeal of the Judge's decision. The first talk of appeal brought cries of "the Board wants to keep children on half days" etc.

From the very beginning the Board has made it clear that the Board does not want to have children on half days, any more than the Board wants to cut programs.

The Board last Saturday indicated that they would appeal the decision, not because they are against children, but because they believe, and so does this paper, that the Board must legally know where the District stands.

Since then the Board has backed off to a degree stating that further study is needed before a final decision on appeal is made.

This paper hopes that the Livonia School Board does not tarry in making its decision, and that the decision should be to appeal Kaufman's decision and to temporarily seek a stay of the Judge's decision.

This stand does not mean this newspaper does not want to see Westland children in the Livonia District on full days, but it means that certain vital, legal and basic questions must be answered before the Livonia Board can proceed. Among the questions weighing heavily are:

Will a Circuit Court Judge's decision be final, since the Michigan State Supreme Court is the final interpreter of the Michigan Constitution which prescribes every child's right to an education?

What constitutes a full day? Can a full day be defined by a set number of hours, by a set curriculum or by a combination of both? How is a school district to finance full days when millages have been turned down and when the State has failed to enact fiscal reform?

How can a school district ignore the State Aid Act which specifically forbids deficit spending, and details how school board members and administration are subject to jail sentences, and fines for breaking this statute?

How can a school board ignore the State Aid Bill which makes school board members as individuals liable for every cent of deficit spending?

There are not small questions; they loom large on the minds of every school district faced with a situation similar to Livonia.

Judge Kaufman's decision states that children are entitled to a full day, and it's the State's responsibility to carry the financial load.

But he does not have the authority to force the State Legislature to appropriate the money. He is not in a position to answer any of the above questions. It is only the Michigan State Supreme Court that can give a definitive statement.

And so the Livonia School Board, in this paper's opinion, has no other recourse but to appeal the decision. That appeal will provide the needed answers for Livonia as well as for the 30 other Districts in the State who are also slated for half days.

There Is No Choice

Angry and upset Westwood parents showed up at this week's Board meeting to protest half-day sessions and to ask questions about the progress of teacher negotiations.

The seven school board trustees -- and we wouldn't blame them if none of them ran for school board again--became the object of the parents' ire for putting Westwood children on half-days. The problem is that the trustees no more want the children on half-days than the parents.

The trustees made this decision because they were following the law as they understood it at the time; according to that state law, school board trustees who approve deficit budgets for more than two years are subject to fines, imprisonment, and are personally liable for the deficit they incur.

Even with Judge Charles Kaufman's ruling in the matter of half-days for the Livonia School system, the crux of the matter still remains. Where will the month come from to keep the schools open all day.

It is in this regard that the Westwood parents are barking up the wrong tree. Only the state legislature has the power to restructure school financing, not the local board.

"Go to the legislature and get the money," the parents demand of the school board. But state legislators are not elected by school boards; they are elected by the citizens of their districts. A state senator or representative may be sympathetic to the needs of a particular school district, but only if his constituents support the restructuring of school finance will he vote for it.

Instead of yelling at the school board members, parents in the Westwood School District should call, write or wire their state representatives and state senators, demanding that something be done. Westwood parents ought to join with parents from Inkster, Wayne, Livonia and the many, many other school districts that are suffering from severe financial problems.

Every school board trustee and superintendent in the state could talk to the legislators. But until the citizenry get off their duffs and march on Lansing, nothing is going to happen.

Mom's Kids Are All Beauties

By Joyce Hagelthorn

I was asked to judge a beauty contest the other evening, which is the hardest thing in the world for me to do, since I think all young girls are beautiful. However, I let them twist my arm, and when it got to hurting I said yes.

Well... there I was... sitting judgment on a bunch of kids who were all so gorgeous it made my heart ache. Actually, what it did, was make me drool with envy...

Naturally, I had to make like a judge, but for the life of me I couldn't say which youngster was the most beautiful, nor the most talented, nor the absolute most. So I said "eenie, meenie, meinie, moe," and the kid who came out "moe" got my vote.

Fortunately there were three other judges.

I was rather glad when it was all over... I was tickled for the winner, and oh, so sad for the losers... and I was gathering up my eye glasses, and my kleenex and losing my notes, when a mother flopped herself before me. And I tell you... she was mad!

I agreed with her when she said her youngster was beautiful... I demured when she downgraded the winner, and I got downright mad when she said I was no better judge than I was writer... and just about the time I was ready to kick her in the shins, I remembered...

I remembered how it was to be the mother of a little beauty who didn't win.

It happened a couple of years ago when one of my girls was entered into the Miss Lucia contest... a beauty and talent contest for young girls of Swedish descent.

Since my kidlet was about as Swedish as one can get, I was real pleased when she made the finals, and her father and I were right down there in the front row when the final judging came.

As the girls came into the room, I looked them over very carefully... and didn't see a single one that was as beautiful as my kid.

I just sat and stared at her... and then I looked over at her papa and found him staring at another miss.

Nudging him in the ribs, I reminded him that that was not our daughter and to get with it.

"I know," he hissed back at me, "but I can look at our kid any old time. Wow!"...

and he bent forward, hands on knees and eyeballs on cheeks.

I ignored him... but I tried to make up to my lovely one by not taking my eyes from her during the whole proceedings. A child has to have ONE loyal parent!

My heart leaped when she walked across the stage, turning ever so gracefully... my lump-in-the-throat got bigger and bigger when she answered the judges in her low, musical voice... and I turned somersaults in my chair when she flashed her winning smile at them... but she didn't win!

Well, I tell you there was no doubt in my mind that every one of those judges had holes where their eyes were supposed to be. I looked the winner over pretty carefully... actually, what I did was walk right over to her where I could get a good look. And would you believe she didn't have a thing!

Her hair was too thick and too blond; her cheeks too rosy; her bust too high; and her waist too small. And all she could do was sing.

It was obvious that my exquisite Swedish-American beauty was the fairest, the most talented of them all, and she surely should have been Lucia... for after all, she was mine!

He Looks It, Doesn't He?

By Jim Fitzgerald

I had barely reached my new station in life when someone whacked me over the ego with it. There was this young doll in our office, see? She was here to sell the advertising manager on holding a cooking school. He took one look and reached for his apron. I took one look and quickly requested an introduction so I might find out why my pineapple upside down cake is falling right side up.

"Ah yes," the ad manager said to the doll, "I'd like you to meet our editor, Jim Fitzgerald." and, hardly breaking syllables, he turned to me and asked, "How's the new granddaughter, Jim?"

Oh, that dirty bum. That dirty, rotten, no-good bum.

I mumbled that the granddaughter was fine, thanks, all the time sucking in my gut and tightening my chins, waiting expectantly for the doll to say my goodness, you don't look old enough to be a grandfather.

This was a week ago and she hasn't said it yet. I guess I'll exhale.

Everybody asks me how it feels to be a grandfather. I always make some lame crack about it being ok, except I feel a little strange sleeping with a grandmother. This is a real kneeslapper and folks think ho-ho, the big clown doesn't know any better, he's happy about being branded an old man overnight. Not so.

It was just the other day I was worrying about getting called back into the army. I'd read the war news and then check the bus schedules to Canada. But they don't draft grandfathers, do they? I might better worry about beating my wife to the mailman on the day the Social Security check arrives.

Seriously, folks, I am finding it a traumatic experience to become a grandfather while I am barely over 40, with two kids still in grade school and a swinging mother who tells people I am her little brother. What's bugging me, I guess, is that I remember my paternal grandparents.

Grandpa was old, with pure white hair and a bushy mustache and a 1928 Dodge you had to crank. Grandma was also old and she always had flour on her face. She used to feed me sugared orange slices which were a lot better than the horehound candy Grandpa slipped me. Grandma made great pancakes and stewed rhubarb and she'd let me listen to funny records by the Two Black Crows on the phonograph that had to be cranked more than the Dodge.

My grandparents, who died before I was 10, were the kind Norman Rockwell used to put on Saturday Evening Post covers, usually coming out of church. Kindly but crochety, feeble but determined, please pass the buttermilk. As played by Walter Brennan and Jonathan Winters in drag.

All these years, whenever anyone said Grandpa and Grandma, I envisioned The Old Couple, in bed by nine and up at five with the snow shoveled off the walks before breakfast. The good, straight people.

But now I'm a grandpa and I'm worried about some doll thinking I look it. It's no wonder I'm uncomfortable. I feel like Dean Martin being inducted into the WCTU.

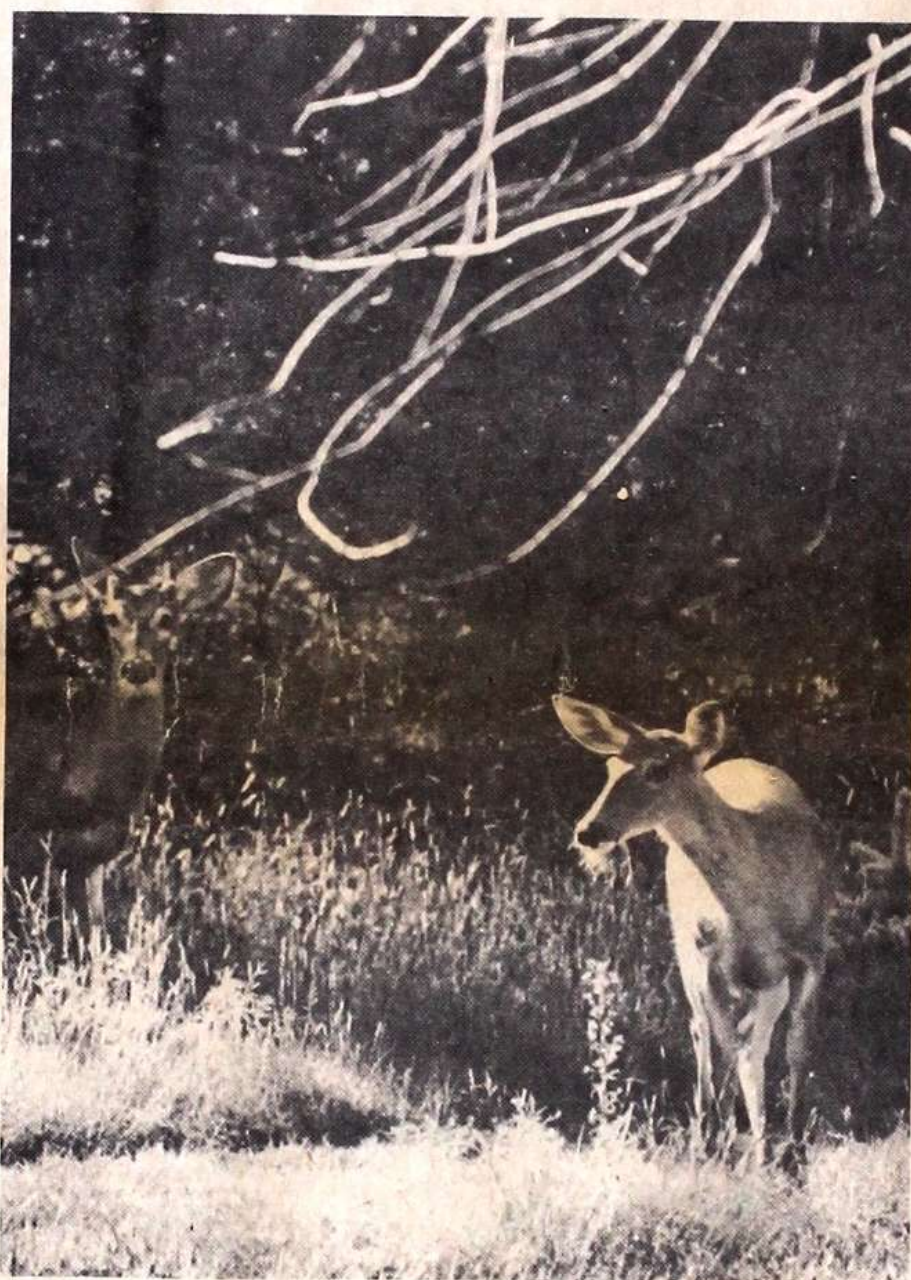

Grandpas should be dignified and wise and well behaved, with all the old fashioned virtues.

OK, I'll start practicing. It may be a while yet before I quit looking at the dolls.

But the next 1928 Dodge I see, I'll crank it.

Him and Her

Take That Millage Passers

By Dick McKnight

Ironically, the ruling by Judge Charles Kaufman last week that Livonia School District children must be given full-day class sessions, may be just the thing that will light the fire under the State Legislature and get fiscal reform for education passed this year.

The judge simply said that the Constitution of the State of Michigan promised quite explicitly that every child in the state is entitled to an equal education--from Dearborn to Copper Harbor and from Zeeland to Delray.

Half-day sessions for four grades in the Livonia District is, the judge ruled, absolutely unconstitutional.

The ruling was the result of a suit filed by a group of conservative parents in Livonia who think the Livonia educational program should be axed to the bone, in order to get all children in grades 5-8 back on full days. Also involved in the ruling was a group of political activists of both parties, who filed a separate suit and helped to outline the constitutional issue.

But one group of old stalwarts was missing.

Not to be seen were the legions of never-weary, yes-voting millage-passers who have kept most of our school districts together over the past ten years by talking themselves and their neighbors into paying more money in property taxes.

After all the flash bulbs had popped and all the headlines were written, the glory of the moment when the Michigan Constitution began to work for the state's children, was lost forever to hardworking parents and citizens who have never, ever let their schools down.

Instead, standing in the spotlight were those no-voting education-knocking conservative parents the millage-passers have been fighting for years.

As one of those old millage-passers, this is one time when I feel downright foolish. I think I may have been snuck up on and beat over the head while I was busy assuring myself that somewhere up there in Lansing fiscal reform was being incubated by the giant mother hen of the state legislature, to be hatched this fall with great splendor and tremor.

While I was putting my shoulder to the task of keeping the schools in one piece, approving millage increases, writing my legislator and trying to convince others of the less faithful that we should all be patient, bite the bullet and wait for that elusive legislation to materialize, those who couldn't care less about education were stealing my thunder.

Why?

Probably because we were all willing to believe that our sincerity alone would convince the legislature to approve fiscal reform. We thought that each time our school officials asked for more millage "just until the legislature acts," they would redouble their efforts to get fiscal reform. We were willing to believe that even though we allowed the state to avoid the crisis by bailing the schools out at the last minute, the state would still do something.

Well, we found out didn't we? Here it is September 1969, and we're no farther, but much poorer in property taxes than we were a year ago.

This writer is going to thank the Republican party and Governor William G. Milliken for those taxes and for being so gracious and polite as to put off fiscal reform until this fall. "We musn't be rash about this," the governor said nimbly. And the legislature he half-controls knee-jerked its approval.

We have, indeed, been taken to the cleaners, millage-passers.

Perhaps the legislature is like the donkey in my father's favorite allegory: You have to first hit him over the head to get his attention.

At last somebody has, indeed, hit the legislature over the head. It's really too bad, millage-passers, that we didn't pick that board up a long time ago and use it on that legislative donkey. Now somebody else, not even our friends, has gone and done it. And it's not even our friends.

All we've got to show is our voter's card and our cancelled checks for the taxes--and a new promise not to give that donkey another chance.

Hoffman Again Answers Supervisor Gouger

SUMPTER--Clarence Hoffman, member of the Sumpter Township Board of Trustees once again answers William Gouger, current supervisor in connection with administrative affairs of Sumpter Township. His statement follows:

Mr. Gouger remarked about the police department.

We have had more accidents, dope and breaking and entering in the township under this administration. Nothing is being accomplished we had a policeman who was arrested by another police department. As of to date, he has not been suspended. Also one had an accident with the police car and nothing has been done.

The Township bought new riot equipment (tear gas and sawed-off shot guns). We asked Mr. R. Marble, police commissioner, who is to be paid $1,000 per year but has been paid $957.56 as of audit April 16, 1968 to March 31, 1969, who was to use this equipment: Neither the police commissioner nor the policemen have been trained to use it.

ON JANUARY, 14, 1969, I made a motion to have a training program for the police department, but as of to date there hasn't been a training program. How can you ask the taxpayers to pay the high taxes for the type of service we get from the Township Police Department.

We have to call out of the Township to different departments for good police protection. It is a waste of the police department's time, the taxpayer's money and it is jeopardizing the policemen's lives, because they aren't trained. It seems the township officials are ignorant to the fact.

It appears that Mr. Gouger is prejudiced. I had to yell discrimination to get a Negro appointed as a full time Wayne County Sumpter Township Constable. Also to get a full time Negro policeman.

I asked at a Township Board meeting to have an agenda made up two days in advance so we would know what was to be discussed at the Board Meeting, but was turned down, why?

Mr. Gouger states that I helped pass different motions on the Board, but I have only one vote and it seems that when I bring up something to better the community, it gets turned down. Why?

Mr. Gouger states all Board Meetings are open to the public, but in a private meeting when the musical chairs took place, Mr. Williams was made Chief of the Police Department with a $600 raise (plus he works for the Water Department) How can he do both jobs efficiently?

Mr. Gouger, township supervisor, if he would stop worrying about Mr. Hoffman and do his own job as Health Officer, I (Mr. Hoffman) wouldn't be getting health complaints, fire calls, etc.

As a township official, I serve all the people. But we got this job as supervisor it is only a part time job which pays over $9,500 plus an expense account and his private police car to play his little games with.

To sum up, what has this administration done for the community, besides high taxes, untrained policemen and untrained fire department. Oh, yes! They did give us large holes called Sanitation Land Fills which are full of garbage.

IT'S NOT qualifications Mr. Gouger is looking for but someone or something to boost his political ambitions.

This administration is a big joke. Mr. Gouger is such a good water department man, but why do we have to sue for easement rights that the township didn't get when the waterline was installed on a businessman's property?

Kubiske, Jentzen Start New Firm

BELLEVILLE--Metro Engineers, a firm dealing with municipal and development engineering works has opened headquarters at 24 Main Street.

Partners in the private business are Edward P. Kubiske, who resigned recently as Ypsilanti Township engineer; and Harold E. Jentzen, who resigned the post of city engineer and director of public works for the City of Ypsilanti Jan. 16 last.

Jentzen is president and Kubiske the secretary of the newly formed company.

KUBISKE REPORTED that it will take another 30 days to put the business on full time operation.

He has been retained by Ypsilanti Township as part time consultant but Kubiske stated that this assignment between them and the local governments might not always favor their firm.

Kubiske was city engineer from 1959 to 1964 when Jentzen succeeded him as city engineer and director of public works.

He then became township engineer in March, 1964 when he left the city.

Student Wins Scholarship

YPSILANTI--Richard E. Byrd, valedictorian of his graduating class at Willow Run High School, Ypsilanti, has been awarded a four-year General Motors College Scholarship by the University of Michigan.

Each scholarship is valued at from $200 to $2,000 a year depending on the need of the student.

All private colleges participating in the program also receive annual grants-in-aid from GM of $500 to $800 per scholarship, based on tuition costs.

In addition to his scholastic achievements, Richard was Co-Captain of the Varsity Football and Wrestling teams and President of the Varsity Club.

Richard is the son of Mrs. Cora M. Byrd, 9479 North Woolman Oval. He plans to pursue a course in engineering and hopes eventually to become an engineer.

Local Missionary Team Return to Tokyo, Japan

Richard's demonstrated leadership qualities and scholastic achievement in high school were instrumental in his selection by the University of Michigan for the coveted GM award.

THE SCHOLARSHIP is one of 293 awarded annually by over 240 colleges and universities throughout the country as part of GM's overall program of support for higher education.

In all, more than 1,200 students are attending colleges with GM assistance.

BELLEVILLE--The Rev. and Mrs. Richard Barker and family living with relatives here for the past year left Tuesday Sept. 2, from Detroit, for another term of missionary service in Tokyo, Japan. They have served six years with the World Gospel Mission, Marion, Indiana.

Rev. Barker is a graduate of Marion College, Marion, Indiana, and Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Kentucky.

While at Seminary he roomed with a Japanese student and later felt a call to Japan as a missionary. Mrs. Barker is a Graduate of Asbury College and is a daughter of former WGM missionaries to Kenya, Africa. The Barkers served Methodist pastorates for seven years prior to their missionary service in Japan.

A MAJOR share of the ministry of the Barkers has been a teaching ministry at the Immanuel Bible Training College where the World Gospel Mission works in cooperation with the Immanuel General Mission of Japan and the Wesleyan Church in the training of national ministers and Christian workers.

ROMULUS COMMUNITY SCHOOLS
COUNTY OF WAYNE, MICHIGAN
TAX ANTICIPATION NOTES

Sealed bids for the purchase of the above notes will be received by the undersigned at the Board of Education offices, 11401 Olive Street, Romulus, Michigan, until 7:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the 15th day of September A.D., 1969, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

The notes will be dated September 15, 1969, will mature April 1, 1970, and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding six per cent (6%) per annum. Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company qualified under Michigan or Federal Statutes to act as paying agent, to be designated by the original purchaser. Form and denomination of the notes shall be at the option of the purchaser. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such notes must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

For the purpose of awarding the notes, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein; the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from October 1, 1969, to their maturity, and deducting therefrom any premium. The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to Romulus Community Schools, County of Wayne, Michigan. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

The loan is in anticipation of the 1969 operating tax due and payable December 1, 1969.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of two per cent (2%) of the par value of the notes, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the Board of Education, Romulus Community Schools, County of Wayne, Michigan must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the notes, to be secured at the School District's expense. The School District will furnish notes ready for execution at its expense. Notes will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan or such other place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Notes".

Try These Beef Recipes By Using Economical Beef Chuck

Chuck full of value these days are beef chucks. When warm weather signals outdoor cookouts, chuck roasts and chuck steaks lose much of their cool weather glamour for meal planners. In order to put chuck cuts back in favor with homemakers, retailers often put them on summer and early fall specials. The chuck accounts for about 26% of the beef carcass.

MISS WESLEY

Dona Wesley Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Wesley, of 34419 Marquette, Westland, formerly of Belleville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Dona, to Earl Polenz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Polenz, of 40309 Tyler road, Belleville. Both Miss Wesley and her fiancé are graduates of Belleville High School currently in their senior year at Eastern Michigan University.

Although they are less tender than the loin or steak cuts, beef chuck can be grilled if they're of USDA Choice quality and if they get plenty of time over the coals. Use a tenderizer if you wish, too.

The next time you buy a round-bone pot roast have it cut thick and use it this way. Instead of pot roast on Sunday and hash on Monday and Tuesday, you'll have three fresh-cooked and entirely different meals—roast, steaks, stew—that you can spread over a week's time.

Meal No. 1 -- From the round end of the roast, cut off a boneless piece of meat to cube for a beef stew. Meal No. 2 -- Cut a piece from the center for a small, one-meal pot roast. Meal No. 3 -- With a sharp knife, you can easily split the remaining piece to make two attractive Swiss steaks. Braise 1 to 2 hours.

If you own a food freezer you may wish to cook in quantity -- using the basic recipe you will have the makings of several different delicious dishes. Ordinarily, each of these dishes involves a long cooking period, but using the "starters" you can complete the entire chore at one time.

BEEF "STARTER" RECIPE

6 lbs. chuck beef, cut in 1" cubes
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup melted fat

1 cup sliced onions
celery tops
3 bay leaves
2 qts. boiling water

Dredge beef in flour. Brown beef in fat. Place browned beef and remaining ingredients in a large utensil. Cover and cook over low heat about 2 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender. Cool thoroughly, strain beef stock. Divide meat and stock into five parts, cover meat with stock. Package each part in moisture-vapor-proof wrapping material. Freeze. Use 1 part meat and stock in recipes.

Now with only about a half hour's cooking you can have a variety of family favorites all ready to serve. For example:

BROILED BEEF ON SKEWERS

1 part beef cubes and stock, thawed
8 mushroom caps
4 small white onions, cooked
1 green pepper, cut in 1 1/2 squares
8 bacon slices

Place beef cubes, mushroom caps, onions, and green pepper alternately on skewers. Wrap 2 bacon slices around each kabob. Fasten with toothpicks. Broil 3" from broiling unit 5 minutes on each side.

PENNY-WISE BEEF STROGANOFF

1/2 cup minced onions
1/2 cup melted butter
1 part beef cubes and stock, frozen
1 tsp. salt
1 cup sour cream

1/4 tsp. pepper
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
dash of tabasco
1 6-oz. can mushroom slices, drained

Cook onions in melted butter, until soft. Add beef, stock, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco, and mushrooms. Cover and cook over low heat 20 minutes. Add sour cream and heat to serving temperature. Serve Beef Stroganoff over rice, noodles, or warmed shoestring potatoes.

The average yearly income for each U.S. citizen is about $2,500 which is almost the cost of living, not including car notes, house mortgage payments and pet foods.

BELLEVILLE BREVITIES

Visitors Return To Home States As School Bells Ring

BY MRS. JOSEPH SPRING
OX 9-4021

Mrs. James Randall with sons, Craig and Curtis, has returned to her home in Sacramento, Calif., after spending seven weeks with her parents, the Herbert Smiths, of High Street and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Harry Randall, of Bemis Road. Mrs. Randall is the former Jackie Coon. Her husband, James, who also has been here, returned home on August 11 after five weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Loudette Harding of Lakeland, Fla., were over night guests last week Saturday of the latter's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Feight.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Potts of West Wabash Street spent the week-end of August 22 in Washington, Pa., with former Belleville residents, Frank and Martha Reynolds, and John and Oma Mary Reynolds.

Guests this past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Clark of Liberty Street have been Mrs. Clark's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Olsen, with daughters, Debbie and Cheryl, from Florissant, Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sanders of Rawsonville Road and the latter's mother, Mrs. Frank Hoag of Liberty Street, left on Sunday, Aug. 31, for Wilson, N.Y., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hoag's son-in-law, George Wilson, who has been seriously ill for several years. Mrs. Hoag will remain for some time with her daughter, the former Helen Hoag.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Adams of W. Huron River Drive were the former's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Branham, of Deerfield Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Guy Ransom of Huron River Drive spent the Labor Day week-end with her husband who is receiving his basic training at Fort Polk, La.

MISS COWARD

Exchange Student At Elwart's

A newcomer to the Romulus area these pre-fall days is Miss Kay Coward who arrived from Manchester, England on the 26th of August to take up residence with her American 'family', Dr. and Mrs. Ray Elwart and children of Romulus. Kay, 16, is an exchange student here under the auspices of "Youth for Understanding".

Shortly after her arrival, Kay was fêted at a pool party hosted by her American 'sister', Linda Elwart. Joining in the welcome-to-Romulus gesture were Peggy Harrold, Martha Lilly, Anna Landry, Paula Jones, Sharon Havash, Rose Latoeki, Crystal Woods, Diane Elwart, Karen Elwart, and Cynthia Elwart. Kay is attending Romulus High School.

Party Set

ROMULUS—The annual Linen Games Party of the Romulus Lodge "Degree of Honor" will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 16, at the L & L Hall, located on Sterling Street, Romulus.

Games will get underway at 7:30 p.m. and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Lots of door awards will be given away, according to the chairman.

For further information call Mrs. Castle Crook (WH-1-1512) or Mrs. Allison Koester (941-0754), or contact any officer of the Romulus Lodge.

Cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Maynard and two children from Lexington, Ky., spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Adams of W. Huron River Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton of Bedell Street returned home Sunday, Aug. 31, after spending two weeks trailering in the Upper peninsula. They spent some time at the Soo, Brimley, saw the Pictured Rocks on Lake Superior, Grand Marais, Deer Park on Muskallonge Lake, visited the William Whicellos at Gulliver, and enroute home camped at Black Lake and East Tawas.

Mrs. Mertie Schaefer of Biggs Street returned home last Thursday after spending two weeks at Marion, Ill., with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Uchman.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Feight were dinner guests Sunday, Aug. 31, of Mrs. Gertrude Burkus of Romulus. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frisbee of Milan, Miss Ester Stenzel of Detroit, and Mrs. Leslie Taylor of Romulus.

Mr. and Mrs. S.C. Pierman spent the Labor Day week-end at the Straits.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones and family of Springfield, Ohio, were week-end guests of her parents, the George Hafts of Church Street and attended their family reunion at Saline on Labor Day.

Luncheon guests last Thursday of Mrs. Samuel H. Robbe of E. Huron River Drive were relatives, Mrs. Chester Nelson of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. John Kammerer of Wayne.

Lynn Saunders of Warren, Ohio, and his mother, Mrs. Clayton Saunders were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Bernice Knop of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Boldt attended a family picnic on Sunday, Aug. 31, at the cottage of his sister, Mrs. Ernest Berndt at Evan Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Potts of West Wabash Street spent several days the last week in August with the Edward Symansky family at Lake James.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Saunders spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Imogene Cole at the Methodist Home in Chelsea.

Last week Sunday Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Atyeo accompanied the latter's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lent-Koop of Dearborn, to Posey Lake near Adrian where they spent the day with another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nichols, at their cottage.

After spending the summer at her home on the Expressway, Mrs. Rose Vincent has returned to her teaching position at the University in Oshkosh, Wis.

Members of the Stewart Potts family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Potts at Commerce Lake on Labor Day for their annual picnic.

Las Vegas Is Scene Of Vicky Kunnath's Wedding

In a summer ceremony at the Little Church of the West, in Las Vegas, Nevada, Vicky Lynne Kunnath became the bride of Don Edward Roberts. Double rings were exchanged during a small private service uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Kunnath, of 98 Brookfield court, Battle Creek, formerly of Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Roberts, 44605 Cherry Hill road, Plymouth.

Floral pieces accented the main aisle pews with flowers and lighted tapers gracing the altar for the six thirty o'clock nuptials.

For her wedding day Vicky chose a toe-touching A-line creation of white linen. Back interest was created with the use of a full-length train lined with pastel orchid, and bordered with appliques of eyelet daisies.

Her accessories included a contrasting orchid veil which drifted to fingertip length and a white orchid surrounded by white carnations with orchid and white streamers falling to the floor.

MRS. LAURA FORD, of Los Angeles, California, was honor attendant by proxy for Kae Wenzel, of Belleville. The bride's, seven-year-old sister, Paula D'Anne Kunnath, wore pale yellow and carried an arrangement of yellow carnations for her role as flowergirl.

Gary Kunnath, of Battle Creek, served as best man at his sister's wedding.

Mrs. Kunnath selected for her daughter's wedding a beige knit ensemble to which she added a corsage of yellow carnations.

A dinner party for the bridal coterie followed on the Las Vegas strip.

The newlyweds spent a month in San Diego before Airman Roberts left on board the USS Constellation for nine months service in Vietnam. A wedding reception is planned for his return in May. The new Mrs. Roberts is making her home with her parents until then with plans to move to San Diego when her husband receives his discharge.

A 1968 graduate of Belleville High School, Vicky attended Patricia Stevens Modeling School and then Kellogg Community College, in Battle Creek, for one year. She is currently employed at Battle Creek Federal Center.

Don graduated from Plymouth High School and is now with the U.S. Navy.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN CARUANA

Caruana-Mitchell Vows Exchanged In Detroit

In an evening ceremony August 9 at Our Lady Gate of Heaven Catholic Church, in Detroit, Vicki Mitchell became the bride of John Caruana. Formerly of this area, Vicki is the daughter of Eugene Mitchell, Sr., of Whitmore Lake, and Mrs. Robert Necker, of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caruana of 37511 Castle drive, Romulus, are parents of the bridegroom.

Arrangements of carnations graced the altar for the six o'clock ceremony as the Rev. Raymond M. Donahue read the double ring rite.

Walking to the sanctuary with her brother, Eugene Mitchell, Jr., the bride appeared in a gown of silk organza fashioned with a scoop neckline and elbow sleeves on an empire bodice frosted with seed pearls and Alencon lace appliques. The lace and pearl motif was repeated on the modified bell skirt which was accented by a chapel train.

A delicate tiered crown of Alencon lace, pearls, and crystals, secured her illusion veil which drifted to mid-back length and she carried cascading white carnations.

Walking up the aisle in identical aqua ensembles were Mrs. Tom O'Harris and Peggy Balestrieri, both of Belleville; Mrs. Ron Ballard, of Detroit; and Mrs. Eugene Mitchell, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride from Fremont, Indiana.

The bridegroom asked Joseph Matthews, of Belleville, to serve as best man. The corps of ushers included Paul Junkin, of Ypsilanti, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Bernie Pingel, of Kalamazoo; Leonard Silvenis, of Livonia; and Glenn Silvenis, of Belleville.

The P.N.A. Hall was reserved for the reception which followed. Some 400 guests attended and were greeted by the bride's mother wearing an apricot dress with beige accessories and a corsage of champagne-colored carnations.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Caruana chose a pink dress and hat and white accessories. Her corsage was comprised of pink carnations.

Following their two weeks honeymoon through upper Michigan and Canada, the newlyweds took up residence at 8027 Rutherford, Detroit.

A graduate of Cody High School, the new Mrs. Caruana completed one year at Highland Park College and is now employed at Detroit and Northern Savings and Loan Association, Detroit.

Her husband graduated from Lincoln High School, is a member of the National Guard, and is employed at Joe's Cycle Center, Flat Rock.

Reunion Held In Saline

The 21st annual reunion of the Hoeft-Haft family was held Labor Day in the Saline Park with 65 members present from Springfield, Ohio; Manchester, Melvindale, Plymouth, Saline, and Belleville.

Attending from Belleville were Mr. and Mrs. Richard

Hoeft and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoeft and families, from Wabash street; Mr. and Mrs. George Haft, of Church street; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jahner and family, of W. Huron River drive; and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hyde, of Liberty street, who had charge of the games.

Jaycees' Auxiliary Drive

ROMULUS-The Romulus Jaycees' Auxiliary is participating in "Operation Comeback."

OPERATION COMEBACK is a statewide program devised by the Michigan Jaycees to bring aid to the victims of the hurricane disaster area in coastal Mississippi.

Each Jaycee Chapter in the state will be campaigning to collect items which are badly needed in the disaster areas. These items include: money, blankets, medical supplies, non-perishable food and clothing.

As chairman, Mrs. Sharon Champagne will be responsible for "OPERATION COMEBACK" in the Romulus area.

For pick-up please call 941-3687, or 941-0289. The deadline is Sept. 17.

Susan Clark Plans Easter Eve Wedding

An Easter Eve wedding, March 28 of next year, is being planned by Susan Renee Clark and Paul L. Studer, both of Belleville. Their engagement and nuptial date are announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Clark, Sr., of 46032 Chatsworth drive, Belleville.

A 1967 graduate of Belleville High School, Miss Clark is currently in her junior year at Eastern Michigan University where she is working towards her B.A. degree in history.

MISS CLARK

She is also employed at Ski's Dairy Bar, Belleville, and at E.M.U. in the Office of Registration.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Studer, of 12783 Lake Pointe Pass, Belleville, is a junior at Eastern Michigan majoring in Physical education. He, too, is a 1967 alumnus of Belleville High and is employed at Draw-tite Trailer Hitch Company, Belleville.

The First Methodist Church of Ypsilanti is being reserved for the spring wedding.

Hello There, Monica Lynn

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewek, Jr., of 9235 Chamberlain, Romulus, wish to announce the birth of their first child, Monica Lynn. The new addition arrived at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, August 22, and weighed 7 lbs. - 4 1/2 ozs.

The new mother is the former Caroline Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick L. Fischer, of Belleville, who became grandparents for the first time on Monica's arrival. She is also a 'first' for the senior Joseph Leweks.

He's Called Stephen Alan

P.F.C. Tom O' Harris, who's serving with the U.S. Army in Korea, has received word of the birth of a son August 31. His wife, Annette, produced the 6 lb. - 15 oz. heir at Garden City Osteopathic Hospital and titled the baby Stephen Alan.

The new mother is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Balestrieri, of 45105 Paris drive, Belleville, while her husband is away.

The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Harris, of Mc Bride street, Belleville, and his great-grandfather is Fred Wittersheim, of Paris Drive, Belleville.

School Board OK's Bus Use for Seniors

BELLEVILLE — The Van Buren School District's Board of Education has approved the use of school buses for Belleville Area Senior Citizens Club's activities, James Egan, business manager for the school system, informed Club Director Richard W. Coffelt.

The approval for the use of school buses is for the school year period and is on a trial basis.

The School Board asked that the club inform school officials at least three weeks in advance of transportation needs. Trips are to be within a 50-mile radius and during a school day between the hours of 9 a.m., and 2 p.m.

Coffelt made the request for help in transportation problems of the members of the club. He stated that the club will pay the cost of the school bus driver when driving for the Senior Citizens ($15 to $20).

RICHARD M. COFFELT

Trips to Wonderland Shopping Center on Wednesday, Oct. 8, and to the Henry Ford Museum on Wednesday, Nov. 12, have been arranged, Coffelt said.

Chamber Chatter Test Yourself.. Are You Hippie Or Concerned?

By ARCH H. BOOTH
Executive Vice President
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

Dissatisfied people come in two main types—those who act and those who just complain. Progress depends on the active ones.

In the past we've described the two in various ways—Positive and Negative Thinkers, Boosters and Doubting Toms, Workers and Alarmists, and the like.

The agin'ers were not always wrong but they had nothing much to take credit for. Their main use was in seeing that we carried along all that was best of the past as we move ahead. They were unpopular because they slowed the pace of change.

Now we have gone into an age of dissent, with youth leading the way, and the contrast has become much clearer. The hippies are here, defying, ridiculing, cursing just about everything that we do or care for, and offering nothing to replace it.

Here is idle protest in full bloom—uninhibited, purposeless and all-consuming.

Here, for the solid citizen to see as he grouches about City Hall with no intention of becoming politically active himself, is the ultimate condition of those who abandon all sense of personal responsibility for what goes on, and who say to-hell-with-it.

Of course, very few members of chambers of commerce or trade or professional associations will wind up in Hippie land. We care about society. That's why we are organized. But isn't there a little bit of hippie in many of us?

What about the businessman who withdraws from the problems of his community—who tends to pull farther back, in anger and confusion, the worse a problem grows? Crime in the streets is an example.

Sure, these same men belong to the chamber, but that doesn't make them part of the community effort. Hippies join up with kindred souls in communes, too. They gang up to share the shirking.

Better worlds are built by men who come together in working teams, with each willing to do his share. That is how your chamber or association tries to operate.

How to Protect Your Auto from Car Thieves

From behind the walls of the world's largest prison, at Jackson, Michigan, comes the authentic word of how car thieves think and operate, and what you can do to protect your car from being stolen.

By M. Robert Deasley, no. 72422

You would probably laugh at the thought of helping a thief steal your car. Yet, last year almost two million Americans did just that! Not voluntarily or consciously, but through plain carelessness.

How do owners help thieves steal their cars? Well, police records over the years reveal that more cars are stolen from dark streets than any other place. Records also show that most stolen cars are reported as unlocked at the time of loss.

As one thief with over 30 years experience put it: "Any car I see on a dark street, with doors unlocked or windows ajar, belongs to me if I want it. It's stupid to risk getting caught stealing a locked car on a lighted street, when I know that within a block of that one, I can find another car I can steal under ideal conditions."

Another veteran thief commented: "It's amazing how easy people made it for me. I've stolen lots of cars that had keys in the switch some with titles and gasoline credit cards in the glove box."

While locked cars aren't a guarantee against theft, unlocked ones offer definite invitation to criminals. If they want a car bad enough they will force a vent, smash a window or slit a top, and quickly close the ignition switch with jump-wires hooked up either from behind the dash or under the hood.

Experienced thieves avoid exposing themselves under lighted conditions. Teen-age joy riders, who are responsible for at least 75 percent of all stolen cars, also avoid lighted streets. Both will generally pass up cars securely locked.

When you park on the street, select one with a lot of traffic, and a spot near a utility lamp, or where there is light from store windows. Since thieves generally don't know who owns a car, they're frightened away by ANYONE approaching.

The best protection is to install an extra ignition switch in a hidden spot, which opens the circuit directly at the coil or distributor. Regardless of how much a thief might want your car, if the hidden switch makes it difficult to start, he'll abandon it in a hurry. A 50-cent switch concealed in the glove compartment, behind the dash, or under the seat, will give as much protection as a $50 alarm system.

Next to dark streets, public parking lots are great favorites for both professional and joy-riding car thieves, because many lots make you leave the ignition key in the car. Whenever possible avoid these lots and find one where you can lock your car. It might mean walking an extra block, but your car will be much safer.

If you do park where you are required to leave your key - leave the ignition key ONLY. Many thieves work with parking lot attendants. If you leave house or office keys in the ignition, you might be victimized by burglars who can make duplicates from your keys. If you leave the trunk key, you are in danger of losing your spare tire and wheel, plus anything else of value that you might have in the trunk.

When claiming your car from a lot, make a visual check of the tires. Where cars are parked for several hours, they can be shuttled to a remote corner and new tires and batteries switched for old ones.

Before driving away from a lot, also check the ammeter. If it registers full charge, and you know your battery shouldn't be charging so heavily, or if the car is hard to start, check your battery to make sure it hasn't been switched for a derelict.

Dishonest lot attendants sometimes rent fellow thieves cars scheduled for several hours parking. This way, crooks have reasonably safe transportation for other crimes, since the owner doesn't know it's being used, and the car isn't reported stolen. After the car has been used for the designated illegal purpose, it is returned to the lot. This "rental" racket is particularly prevalent on lots catering to evening show trade, where it is easy to tell how long the owner will be gone. One thief interviewed told how he "rented" cars in this manner, which also contained house keys, and burglarized the home using the victim's own car - which did not attract attention from neighbors.

Whenever possible select a lot with rear and sides fenced in, since most cars are stolen from open areas, while attendants are busy at the front. Never tell attendants you'll be gone for a long time. Be evasive if they ask how long you'll be. Say: "I don't know...10 minutes...maybe an hour." Your evasiveness will provide some protection against "switch thefts," usually perpetrated on cars sure to be parked at least an hour. Check your gas gauge and mileage record when leaving your car and before driving it away. Your mileage reading will instantly tell whether anyone has driven your car. The gas gauge will show if gasoline has been siphoned - a common practice on some lots. Report any irregularities to the management - and police - BEFORE LEAVING THE LOT! Once you have driven away, it's almost impossible to establish that a theft occurred while the car was parked.

Thieves specializing in stealing FROM automobiles, rather than taking the actual cars, are known in criminal parlance as "car boosters." Although they steal from any car, anywhere, they generally operate along well traveled highways or around vacation and sports areas. Working from predetermined and proven patterns, they simply wait for victims to come to them.

A popular procedure is to wait near large restaurants along interstate highways. When a car loaded with luggage is parked and the occupants go inside, the thieves know they'll be gone for about an hour. A tire iron is applied to a vent, or a sharp blade to a convertible top, and the luggage is transferred to their car before the victims are comfortably seated at the table. Again the protective factor is light. If a car is parked in a well lighted spot in front of the restaurant, thieves probably won't bother it.

Sportsmen who leave guns, fishing gear, outboard motors, cameras, and other equipment in plain sight are inviting car boosters. While it may be inconvenient to carry these items in your trunk, they're much safer there, because this type thief usually steals only what he can see.

As a parting thought, know your license tag numbers and check them daily. Frequently thieves steal tags (or just one) from parked cars, which are later used on stolen cars for other crimes. They sometimes steal plates and substitute them with "hot tags" knowing the average person doesn't check his plates. This can cause your arrest for using false license, or becoming involved with the law from your numbers being used on another vehicle connected with a crime.

A few drops of solder on bolt threads, or burning of the threads will safeguard your tags. It might mean a little extra work changing them next year - but it offers good insurance against theft of your tags this year.

Supervisors To Meet In Evening

Beginning Thursday, Sept. 18, the Wayne County Board of Supervisors will hold four monthly meetings in the evening to give the public an opportunity to attend.

The meetings will be held at 7 p.m. on the third Thursday of the month in the auditorium of the City-County Building. At the end of the four months, the Rules Committee of the Board of Supervisors will evaluate the experiment and recommend whether to continue evening meetings. In the past, the county legislative body has always met in the afternoon.

"Most citizens must work during the day and cannot attend meetings of their elected representatives without making special arrangements," said Albert J. Zak, board chairman. "We hope to encourage an interest in public affairs."

In another first, the Sept. 4 meeting of the Board of Supervisors opened with an invocation by Rabbi Israel I. Halpern, spiritual leader of Congregation Beth Abraham, Detroit. The practice will be continued.

"Help us, leaders and citizens alike, to wipe out ignorance, prejudice, hatred, war, civil strife and poverty—that we may raise the spiritual, moral and material standards of our fellowmen," Rabbi Halpern prayed.

The order in which clergymen of the various religions will appear was determined by drawing the names from a hat.

August Road Toll Tops 200

For the fourth month in a row, Michigan traffic deaths topped the 200 mark as August ended with a provisional count of 223, State Police provisional figures show.

Michigan statistics show that only in two previous years have there been May-August periods in which the monthly tolls exceed 200. One was in 1966, the other in 1968. New annual traffic death records were set in both those years.

The August toll was nine or four per cent less than 232 in the same month last year. However, it was 14 more than the average of 209 for August in the five years 1964-68. High August was 234 in 1937, low was 67 in wartime 1943.

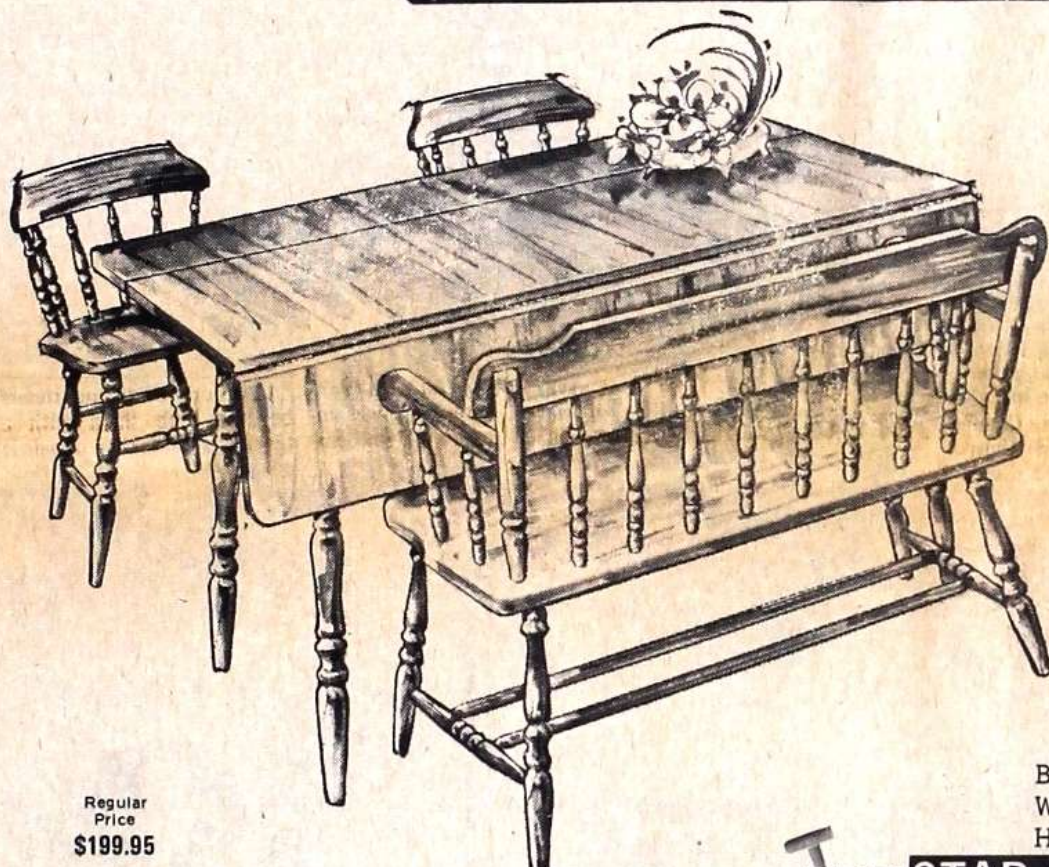

The deaths brought the accumulated loss for the first eight months this year to 1,538, which was 54 or 3.6 per cent higher than 1,484 in the same period of 1968.

Teenagers Start J.A. Campaign

DETROIT—Edward Nagel, executive vice president of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, heads a corps of 200 teenagers who are launching a J.A. recruiting campaign this week.

With the theme: "Do Something That Counts ...

Join J.A. ... the Action Place", the teenagers will supplement J.A. staffmen in addressing 216 high school assemblies within the next three weeks.

Purpose of the recruiting campaign is to bring more teenagers into this year's "learn American business by doing" program.

The 200 teenagers who will give J.A. sales speeches were all active in J.A. last year.

There are 26 J.A. centers in the six-county southeastern Michigan area. The 1969-70 program year will run from Oct. 13 to May.

Appoint Sayre M.F.B. Director

BELLEVILLE—Elton Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, has announced the appointment of James L. Sayre, as a Director-At-Large on the Michigan Farm Bureau Board of Directors.

Sayre of 6585 Morton-Taylor Road, will fill the unexpired term of Nicholas Smith, who was appointed chairman of Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee.

Sayre operates a 250-acre fruit and vegetable farm and retail farm market on the western edge of Wayne County.

Much of what he grows with the aid of his wife, Joan, and their five young sons, ages 6 through 13, is sold through the family market and wholesale markets of Detroit.

LEADERSHIP RESPONSIBILITY is nothing new to Sayre. While a 15-year member of Farm Bureau, he has served as manager of the membership program in his county and, from 1960 to 1961, he was president of the Wayne County Farm Bureau Board of Directors.

In addition he has served as a member of a select committee appointed to study the state Farm Bureau organization, programs, and operation.

Sayre is a graduate of the Kellogg Young Farmer program. This three-year program, operated by Michigan State University, has introduced progressive young farmers to a wide exposure in economics, mechanics of farm organizations, and agricultural leadership development. This exposure includes wide travel in the state, nation and the world. For instance Sayre concentrated first hand on agricultural challenges in Pakistan during his studies.

PRESIDENT SMITH said in making the announcement, "We're proud to have Jim on our Board of Directors. He's young, progressive, and well respected in all Farm Bureau circles."

Now as a member of the board of the state's largest farm organization, Sayre joins 15 other members in the responsibility of carrying through the policies of all Farm Bureau members

'If...' Indicts Old English School System

By ALAN KROKER
ANP Amusement Critic

The University of Detroit Theatre concluded its summer of small book musicals with a reprise of its opener, "Once Upon a Mattress," the spoof of the old fairy tale about the "Princess and the Pea" which introduced Carol Burnett to Broadway. The successful production gave U-D a .667 batting average for the summer.

Paula Franics was effective as the overbearing Winnifred (call her Fred) who was so eager to prove her royal blood she swam the castle moat. Claudia Teeley fared well as the queen who was so eager to keep her apron strings securely around a mamby-pamby son she devised intricate tests to rule out all applicants for her son's hand. Neil Thackaberry was perhaps not impish enough as the mute king who gets his kicks by chasing the court girls but certainly wouldn't know what to do with one if he caught her.

A special word is due James Miller who designed three colorful and effective sets this summer, making the most of U-D's inadequate stage facilities and making its lacks less apparent. Director James Rodgers is also to be commended for escaping from the cramped standard fare of U-D's past summers, Shaw and Shakespeare. There's no law against a collegiate production being strictly for entertainment.

"IF..." STUDIO NORTH, is rightly one of the year's most talked about films, equally for what it says and the way it says it. Few would challenge the assertion that "If..." is one of the most powerful statements against the old school the English establishments, but some of Lindsay Anderson's devices seem questionable.

"If..." which uses a cast of unknowns effectively, depicts an English boarding school run under the traditional system of tyranny by which the Empire long developed its leaders. Even India's caste system is no more unyielding than College House's layers of superior-inferior relationship. The (grade school) juniors are humiliated by the (high school) seniors and made to run menial errands for them. Proctors lord it over the seniors, administering vicious beatings and even more brutal tongue-lashings in the name of discipline. And above all is the administration, blind and uncaring in its worship to a faith which Anderson screams is obsolescent.

Anderson goes further than this in predicting a new order, the order of youth, which must be given its freedom or it will take it anyway. Three rebellious seniors, ordered as punishment to clean out a storage area, uncover a large cache of ROTC weapons and declare war - literally - on the school. The end is not surprising since Anderson has honed his weapon to such a fine edge, you know it must be used.

More controversial still is the director's technique. He blends and intermingles black and white and color film apparently at whim, breaks up piles of episodic incidents with chapter headings and mingles reality with puzzling fantasy in which a seemingly murdered clergyman rises with presumed allegorical import. The net effect is thoroughly Brechtian, with an intense effort to prevent the audience being caught up in the film, possibly as a jog to intellect. Yet the greatest impact of "If..." lies in its pull on the emotions, for surely much of it does not stand up to reasoned examination.

Well, go see it and debate it alter. It's a meaty evening at any rate. Genius is akin to insanity and "If..." has a little bit of both.

THE PROBLEMS OF YOUTH are expressed in much more poetic fashion in Phillip ("Portnoy's Complaint") Roth's novella, "Goodbye Columbus," in which Richard Benjamin and Ali MacGraw turn in extremely sensitive performances as two young Jews from different backgrounds, struggling to know each other.

Benjamin would consider himself modern, but he is from an old worldly background, a background of basic precepts for getting ahead, like work and study. His efforts to reconcile his background with society have left him somewhat rootless and he is working at a menial library job with few plans for the future. Miss MacGraw plays Westchester to Benjamin's Bronx. She is the daughter of success, thoroughly pampered and thoroughly spoiled, a background conducive to the cretinism her brother - a blend, amiable "college graduate" totally unready for society who had every Montovani record ever made - finds himself in.

The love affair of such a couple could never be easy. Benjamin becomes a not always comfortable house guest in Westchester, attempting to cope with a completely delightful and never responsible baby who enjoys sex but doesn't bother with the pill because she doesn't like it. The people of "Columbus" may not be as maladjusted as Portnoy is, but their society is now easier to live in. Both makes a telling point for the ultimate decadence of American civilization through internal decay. Along the way he offers some truly poignant moments.

LEST ANY THINK the Tuetons have lost their ability to be heavyhanded, exhibit A is a German version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" which proves conclusively that period pieces should best be left to their period. There is no particular need for a Civil War today and thus no place for Harriet Beecher Stowe's work which so enflamed abolitionists a century back but today becomes merely an anachronism and not a very funny joke either. The faults of this particular picture are so numerous, it is perhaps easiest merely to caution you to avoid it like the plague. It offers nothing to please anyone.

August Ford Sales Is Highest

Ford Division's combined car and truck daily sales rate of 7,284 for the month of August was the highest in history.

The August record daily rate gave Ford its highest year-to-date combined car and truck sales volume. Sales totaled 1,771,888 units. The car total of 1,285,243 exceeded 1968 by 1.6 per cent. The truck of 486,645 was up 11.3 per cent over a year ago.

For the month, Ford dealers sold 136,865 cars and 52,532 trucks.

Schoolcraft Wants Choir Members

The Schoolcraft College Symphonic Choir will perform Benjamin Britten's "St. Nicholas" as its major choral work for the fall season. Conductor Bradley Bloom has announced.

Reorganized last year under Bloom's direction the Symphonic Choir is composed of students at the college and non-student residents of the college district. The Choir last year was composed of 50 voices and Bloom said he hoped to expand membership this year as the organization grows in maturity and experience. The group presented Mendelssohn's "Elijah" as its major work last spring.

The Britten work, for which performance dates will be announced, is scored for two pianos, organ, string instruments, and percussion.

Stamp Show Scheduled

The Eleventh Annual Ford Stamp Club Exhibition and Bourse will be held Oct. 4 and 5 at the Dearborn Youth Center located at Michigan Avenue and Greenfield in Dearborn.

The hours on Saturday are from 12 noon to 9 p.m. on Sunday from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

In the Youth Center on exhibit will be approximately 60 frames of stamps. Attending to the needs of collectors will be 15 dealers.

Piano Duo To Perform

A concert by Melvin Stecher and Norman Horowitz noted duo piano team Sunday, Sept. 14, opening the Mercy College of Detroit 1969-70 concert season, will be followed Monday morning, Sept. 15, with a workshop and luncheon open to the public.

Unlike the concert in McAuley Auditorium Sunday, the workshop will be conducted in the Student Conference Center beginning at 9:30 a.m. The luncheon is scheduled to conclude at 1 p.m.

Tickets for both the concert and the workshop are available through Joel Ebersole, Music Department chairman.

Stecher and Horowitz have just completed a highly successful concert tour of Europe and are beginning their 18th season as a team. Their concert program Sunday embodies works written especially for duo piano performance, representing classicists as well as modern composers.

Three Western Wayne Women Named in Drive

Three homemakers have been appointed division chairmen to direct residential solicitations in Garden City, Inkster and Westland during the 1969 Torch Drive.

The newly named chairmen include Mrs. Malcolm Kahaian, 434 Farmington, Garden City; Mrs. Richard G. Loftus, 420 Woodland, Inkster, and Mrs. Albert J. Guzik, 36634 Gilchrist, Westland.

The residential canvass will be conducted during the 21st annual United Foundation campaign scheduled for Oct. 14 through Nov. 6. The campaign has a $28,975,000 goal, highest ever set for a Torch Drive.

Contributions will underwrite 1970 operating costs of nearly 200 health and community services in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

The residential canvass annually raises more than $1 million of the Torch Drive goal.

Mrs. Kahaian, a Torch Drive area chairman last year, volunteers "because I enjoy the work and like helping others, particularly those in need."

Her husband is a welder. They have four children: Karen, 19; Isabelle, 18; Peggy, 16, and Malcolm, 6.

Mrs. Loftus has worked in every Torch Drive residential campaign since 1961 as a doorbell ringer or neighborhood chairman.

She is active in the International Institute, a Torch Drive service, and Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, St. Norbert Altar Sodality and a parent-teacher group.

She and her husband, a Ford Motor Co. employee, have eight children.

Mrs. Guzik is affiliated with the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, St. Mary's Adult Choir and St. Mary's Women's Club.

Her husband is a grinder with Initial Tool Co. They have three daughters: Barbara, 13; Catherine, 10, and Dianna, 4.

500 Waterfowl Decoys Spice Museum Display

Approximately 500 waterfowl decoys from the collections of members of the Michigan Waterfowl Decoy Association will be exhibited at the Detroit Historical Museum for four months beginning Tuesday, September 16, it was announced by E.T. DeNavarre, president of the association.

The exhibit not only will feature duck, goose and shorebird decoys made by Michigan's most famous decoy carvers but will also display such historical items as a carver's work bench more than 100 years old, a hand-built duck boat of early vintage, pictures and other mementos of waterfowl "market" hunting days, miniature decoy layouts, and a tape recording set for listeners to hear the calls of various ducks.

Of special interest will be nine decorative carvings made by Tom Schroeder, a Detroit and winner of many national decoy contests who often is considered the "Dean" of carvers still living in Michigan. His birds will include a life-size wild turkey, a flying partridge, a sandhill crane, Virginia rail and Sora rail and a pair of pintail ducks.

Some of the Michigan carvers whose work will be exhibited include Charles Pozzini of Birmingham; James Foote, Gibraltar; Ralph Johnson, Detroit; Paul Schafer, Detroit; John Zachman, Detroit and the late Nate Quillan of Rockwood; Ben Schmidt of Line; Ferdinand Bach of Detroit; and Walter Struebing of Marine City.

Examples from the Mason decoy factory, which flourished in Detroit from 1888 to 1925, and the Jasper Dodge factory, also based in Detroit in the late 1800's, will be part of the exhibit.

Paul Schafer and Dr. Edmund Bowman, co-chairmen of the Exhibit Committee of the Michigan Waterfowl Decoy Association, were responsible for putting the exhibit together.

The Detroit Historical Museum is located at Woodward Avenue and Kirby Street. It is open Tuesday through Sunday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A GUIDE TO GOOD FOOD, MUSIC, the BEST IN FINE ENTERTAINMENT

New Forms in Art Displayed at Institute

Detroit's first extensive survey of new forms in the arts and the Art Institute's first major exhibition of the season opens to the public Wednesday, Sept. 10.

Striking new directions, 34 young anti-traditionalists will be revealed in 100 objects that range from the museum's front lawn through the Sculpture Court and balconies of the South Wing.

"Other Ideas" will run through Oct. 19 free to the public.

One object will be a rough pine stairway erected exactly six inches over the French marble staircase leading to the main floor of the exhibition area.

Another will be a three-story high neon tube suspended from the ceiling of the contemporary Sculpture Court.

Both of these works are by Charles Stanton, 22-year-old Detroiters who received attention for his untitled masking-tape floor pieces in last year's Michigan Artists Show.

The museum's lawn by busy Woodward will contain five holes in the ground, each about four feet deep and carefully marked by special frames, in an earth sculpture by westerner Michael Heizer.

Installed by Samuel Wagstaff, Jr., curator of contemporary art, the "Other Ideas" exhibition will include works utilizing plastic, cloth, wood, moving plywood, water, TV sets, copper screening, fluorescent tubes, wire, neon, etcetera. Visitors will be invited to walk on or touch several of the pieces.

The public, many of whom will be predictably outraged at the young artists' rejection of traditional easel or sculpture work, are also invited to attend the free seminar scheduled for the Lecture Hall, Thursday evening, Sept. 11, at 8 p.m. Wagstaff will moderate a panel of three "Other Ideas" artists: Robert Cumming, Royce Dendler and Georg Ettl.

Sale

A potato bin, an ice cream freezer and a malted milk mixer are among 38 items of restaurant equipment to be auctioned Thursday, Sept. 18, by the Department of State Highways.

Red Cross Offers Nurse Conference

The American Red Cross is sponsoring a two-day training conference for all professional nurses interested in preparing to teach Red Cross Mother and Baby Care Classes.

Training includes a thorough discussion of course material plus actual demonstrations and classroom practice of teaching baby care techniques.

The conference will be held Monday, Sept. 15, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Tuesday, Sept. 16, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Red Cross Chapter House, 153 E. Elizabeth St., Detroit in Room 530.

Upon satisfactory completion of the training course, instructors will receive authorization to teach Mother and Baby Care classes and award certificates to qualifying students.

Marjorie Gaunt, R.N., Red Cross Director of Nursing Programs, will instruct. There is no charge and all teaching materials will be supplied.

For further information or registration, call Miss Gaunt at 961-3900 ext. 273.

Queen of Cinderella Ball Describes TB Care

(Editor's Note: Following is a first person story by Lucinda Ann Cooper of East Rockwood, Mich., which relates vividly how tuberculosis can infect a healthy person without their knowledge. Lucinda will reign at the fabulous Cinderella Ball in the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel on Oct. 4 and will serve as Christmas Seal chairman for Wayne County and Michigan during the 1969 campaign.)

By LUCINDA ANN COOPER

I know from personal experience that you don't have to be a run-down weakling to get tuberculosis. My first contact with TB was in 1963 when my father was hospitalized with it for one year.

Our family had x-rays taken every three months, then every six months, and, finally, once a year.

My second encounter with it was in October, 1967. I had returned to my dorm after class and laid down to rest. Suddenly, I felt something in my throat. I coughed and discovered I was hemorrhaging so I went to the school nurse who sent me to the doctor.

HE THOUGHT I had ruptured a blood vessel in my throat but took x-rays. I called my parents that evening. They told me to fly home immediately because this was the way they had discovered my father's TB.

Upon reaching home they took me to the Wayne County TB Center on Merriman Road where x-rays were taken. I was sent to Herman Kiefer Hospital where I remained for five months. I have been on medication since being discharged on March 27, 1968.

My background will bear out my contention that you don't have to be a run-down weakling to get tuberculosis. I was born Aug. 16, 1946, in Wyandotte, to Everett and Gloria Cooper. I am the only girl in the family and have four younger brothers.

I SPENT my early years in Ecorse and Lincoln Park. When I was in the fourth grade we moved out to the country in Brownstown Township. The area is known as East Rockwood and is adjacent to the state game area, Pointe Mouillee.

I attended Barrow and Parson schools and Carlson High which at the time was only a Junior High School in the Gibraltar School District. I attended Trenton High School during my senior high school days and graduated from there in June, 1965.

My summers were spent swimming and canoeing and my free time in the winters was spent ice skating and enjoying outdoor sports both as participant and spectator. I pitched on the girls softball team for three years, and I enjoy bowling.

IN SEPTEMBER, 1965, I entered York College in York, Nebraska, and attended it for two years before transferring to Abilene Christian College in Abilene, Texas, where I am majoring in Elementary education.

In June of 1967, I was elected Queen of the Huron River Canoe Race and Festival after having been chosen Princess the two preceding years.

So much for that. Now back to TB and its ramifications.

As soon as it was learned that I had TB, my parents and brothers were put on medication to prevent them from developing active TB. They took INA for one year.

While I was a patient in the hospital, I learned to knit and crochet. I was not allowed to pursue my studies while a patient but in September of 1968 I was given permission to return to Abilene Christian College to complete my education.

I passed my Senior Life Saving at college this past year.

After being selected to be the 1969 Cinderella and Michigan Christmas Seal Chairman, I decided to wait until January to complete my education and become a kindergarten teacher.

Meanwhile, I am employed at Montgomery Ward's Southgate store in their newly opened Rent-A-Car division.

Schmidt Receives Degree

BELLEVILLE—Terrance Kenneth Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kenneth Schmidt, 47541 North Shore Drive, received his Bachelor's Degree from the University of Michigan in the School of Literature, Science and the Arts on Aug. 10, at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

Those witnessing the Graduation Exercises, in addition to his parents, were his younger brother, Land Timothy, and his grandmother, Mrs. Louise (John), Eldinger Schmidt Dahne.

The program was most impressive with the introduction of recipients of Honorary Degrees and many, many Doctorate degrees in various Schools of Graduate Studies from Universities all over the world.

Currently Terrance is employed at the 3 M Company (Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company) in Wayne, and hopes to continue graduate studies over the ensuing years.

DESPITE WEATHER

Outdoor Group Reports Successful Corn Roast

BY ED. SHUMBERA

BELLEVILLE—It started out as a cloudy dismal day for the Huron Valley Conservation Association's second annual Corn Roast day held Sunday Sept. 7 at the Lower Huron Metro. Park. But as the day rolled by, the weather improved with the crowd.

The Corn Roast proved to be very successful under the leadership of the chairman Jack Begin in charge of the festival. There were races for the children of all ages, even the adults who were about 35 to 45 years of age.

Everyone who attended with or without a picnic basket, had food to eat by sharing of each others food. Fried chicken, potato salad, baked beans, etc.—plus the 1500 ears of corn that disappeared before the day ended.

THE GRAND PRIZE, A Winchester Commemorative 30-30 rifle, was won by Alene Knust of Belleville, the Portable TV set winner was Andrew S. Johnson of Lansing. The remaining prize winners were:

John Sliwa of Belleville, the electric hot server, C. Frey of Belleville, The blender; R. Cempura, Dearborn-Portable Radio; Larry Rogalle of Belleville, Star Flash Camera.

Two extra prizes which were donated, were won by Dick Brandt of Detroit, A Porterhouse steak dinner for two at Lodge Lanes Snack Bar - and a large Bucket of Chicken at Hoots Hootanny was won by Dee Bellanger of Belleville.

A VERY good time was had by all who attended this colorful festival and comments that were overheard, such as, "Sure hope this club has another Corn Roast next year", is greatly appreciated by the ROMULUS—A dance will be held at the Progressive Hall, 11580 Ozga Road, Wednesday, Sept. 17 between 8 PM and 12:00.

Tickets will cost $1.50 and proceeds will go to the St. Jude's Hospital for research in the field of children's Leukemia.

According to dance chairmen, Candy LaPota, the dance will be chaperoned and teenagers are invited to attend from all areas.

Belleville Chamber Has Record Roster

BELLEVILLE—Membership in the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce has reached a new high, Theodore F. Kuckelman, executive director announced Monday.

Current membership roll now stands at 134 paid-up members, he reported.

The latest business owners and professional persons to become affiliated with the local Chamber of Commerce are:

Robert Barlow, The Fish House, 10705 Belleville Road.

John Dudick, Dudick Custom Builder, 257 Roland Street; Chuck Stewart, Stewart Distributors, Inc., 24 Columbia; and Dennis Donet and James Bourke, Pioneer Janitorial Service, 43981 South Service Drive.

Larry Button, Barber, 4899 Edgar Street; Robert Boyer, Boyer's Market, 49230 Michigan Avenue.

Donald Mason, A.A.A. Floor Covering Company, 406 Main Street; Francis Day, Contract and Builder, 42691 Savage Road.

Others were: Jane J. Mathews and Sandra Mathews, Jan and San's Beauty Shop, 187 Main Street; Al Grassel, The Outpost Saddlery & Arena, 41292 Van Born Road; and Vic Rizzo, Rizzo's Pizzeria, 421 Main Street.

The Detroit Edison Company had invested about $35 million in air quality control equipment and has about $20 million budgeted for additional control equipment installations over the next few years.

Evangelist at Berean Baptist

BELLEVILLE-Rev. James R. Calhoun, evangelist with the extension staff of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, will be holding special meetings entitled "New Life Campaign" at the Berean Baptist Church, 6889 Belleville Road (between Ecorse and Van Buren roads) on Sept. 14-21.

Sundays services are at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. and weekdays at 7:30 p.m. A nursery will be provided for all services for pre-school children.

A graduate of the pastors course at Moody Bible Institute, Mr. Calhoun has devoted himself to a pastoral and evangelistic ministry. In his more than 30 years of experience, he has served two Michigan pastorates and conducted evangelistic campaigns from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard.

"WHEREVER I GO," says Mr. Calhoun, "I find a growing spiritual crisis of moral laxity and personal indifference. Religion is popular today, but there is little depth to it."

"People need the message of the Bible which gives not only a new life, but a new purpose-which is to bring God's people to a life of usefulness, blessing and service to others. They are to be what the Bible says they are-light and salt to the world."

Mr. Calhoun, who has been with the institute for more than 20 years, was born in Pennsylvania and received his early education there. He now lives in Jackson, Michigan.

State Ritual Chairman, Ken Taylor of Detroit; State Civic Affairs Chairman, Willard Miller of Wayne; State Sports Chairman, Gerald Cutchall of Hastings, State Bowling Chairman, C.A. Collier of Saginaw; Deputy Legion Herder, Omer Riggs of Lincoln Park and Past Legion Herder James Newman of Detroit.

OUR LOCAL Dignitaries expected are Belleville Enterprise Editor, Richard H. Cantin, Chief of Police Irwin W. Stech, city treasurer and councilmen, Van Buren Township Supervisor Edward C. Stoelton, Township trustees Mayor Royce Smith of Belleville, also guests from the Windsor Moose Lodge and Chatham.

The Steger grandchildren Shawn Steger, son of Mr. & Mrs. William Steger; and Shirley Ann Ray, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Franklin Ray will present the Robe at the Ceremony. Steger has two sons, William and Frederick and one daughter Ann Ray and nine grandchildren who are all expected to be in attendance.

Belleville Lodge is very proud of George Steger, who has served in many offices of the Moose Fraternity.

He has served Belleville Lodge as Sergeant at Arms, Trustee, Junior Governor, Junior past Gov. and secretary, since November, 1960.

He also has served as secretary and treasurer of District No. 1 many years, also Secretary Treasurer District No. 1 Fellowship Degree, Lodge Publicity Chairman, Fellowship Chairman, club manager, and Building chairman.

He has resided at his present address on Ecorse Road for the last 28 years.

Jaycee Liners are Available

BELLEVILLE-Keep your Community Clean Program is a constant task for all civic minded persons and groups who take pride in their community.

The Belleville Jaycees is just one of these groups that do care about Belleville.

They have embarked some weeks ago on a clean-up campaign by selling Trash Liners to be used in 20-gallon trash cans.

JAYCEES ISSUED a reminder Monday these trash liners are still available upon telephone call. They can be purchased in boxes of 100 each for the price of $5, or residents can buy them at six cents each.

Delivery days are Fridays from 5 to 7 p.m. and Saturdays from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

Orders may be placed at any of the following numbers: 697-9438, 482-7736, 697-0150, 697-5191, and 483-7166.

Nursery Committee To Meet

ROMULUS-The Romulus YWCA Pre-School Nursery Committee will hold their first meeting of the year on Thursday, Sept. 11 at 1 p.m. in the Special Services Building, 7335 Washington Street (Old Cory School).

Registration plans will be finalized, according to Mrs. Jeannie Ursery, chairman, with actual registration planned for the last week in September.

All persons interested in the proposed nursery are invited to attend.

Youth Service Scheduled

ROMULUS - A special Youth Service will be held this evening at 7:30 at the Church of God of Prophecy, 7201 Kempa Street, Romulus.

Mr. Doug King, from Washington, will present his monologue: "Jesus As Seen by Pilate." This is an account of the trial, crucifixion, and resurrection of Jesus, as seen through the eyes of Pilate. The dramatization given by King is realistic and the audience is left captivated.

King has just returned from presenting his monologue at the Church of God of Prophecy's General Assembly in Cleveland, Tennessee, and is presently presenting his monologue throughout Michigan.

Miss Brenda Honeycutt, the Youth Leader at the Church of God of Prophecy in Romulus, invites the public to attend this special event this evening.

The public is also invited to worship at the Church each Sunday morning for Sunday School at 9:45, Morning Worship at 11:00 a.m., and Evangelistic Service at 7:30 p.m.

Never was time it was not;
End and Beginning are dream!
Birthless and deathless and changeless
remaineth the spirit for ever;
Death hath not touched it at all,
dead though the house of it seems.

TIGERS DEBUT AT HOME FRIDAY

Wayne 1st Test for Belleville Gridders

Alas, John Yocum is gone. The spirited Belleville quarterback who earned ANP All-Area recognition during the '69 grid campaign has departed into the ranks of the graduates, but a rugged lad by the name of Dick Wenzel hopes to make fans forget the stellar performer of yesteryear. Wenzel has taken over the responsibility of guiding the Tigers and according to third year head football coach Jim Richendollar, "he's doing a good job."

"Wenzel has filled Yocum's shoes adequately," said the Tiger strategist, who added that scrimmages show not only that his signal-caller but also his team is ready to play.

Wenzel played under the shadows of Yocum last year but made his presence known. He has shown leadership and the fire which could change the destiny of Belleville's slumping grid machine.

The Tigers failed to win a game in the power-packed Suburban Six Conference last year which was dominated by Livonia Bentley, the defending league champ.

Richendollar feels that the Tigers will have a much improved team. Their first test comes Friday night when the Tigers host another perennial loser, Wayne Memorial, which will have its third coach in three years.

Wayne Gorman, a former standout at Riverview and who guided St. Patrick's of Wyandotte to an undefeated season, is now at the reins of the Zebra grid machine.

The two teams clash under the lights at 8 p.m.

Belleville may be ready to play, but no one is doubting that Bentley, Plymouth and Trenton, also will be prepared once the nonleague schedule is cleared.

Prognosticators are picking either Trenton or Plymouth to dethrone the champs who lost a flock of seniors and their veteran head coach.

Belleville will rely on a nucleus of 10 lettermen, including a crop of good seniors, to challenge these opportunists.

And the Tigers will have to mobilize all the help they can get in order to stop these perennial powerhouses.

Shoreline Owners Cautioned by State

Shoreline owners on Michigan waters who plan to increase their frontage by constructing channels into their land were cautioned this week by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley. The development must be for a "reasonable use" or a permit will not be granted.

Supporting him is a recent judgement issued by the Barry County Circuit Court in which a proposed channel development on Gun Lake was declared an "unreasonable use" and thereby not permitted.

Circuit Judge Richard Robinson based his judgement on several considerations. They included a study which indicated that an increase in boating activity resulting from the channel would "cause a deterioration in quality of boating." Another consideration involved the danger of an increase in septic tank pollutants into the water.

The case had been referred to the Barry County Circuit Court by the Michigan Supreme Court for a finding of fact as to the reasonableness of use.

The high court had decided that riparian rights could not be created in lots which had no actual contact with the water, and that land abutting an artificial water course has no riparian rights.

Michigan has had more All-America football players, 52, than any other Big Ten school. The last Wolverine to be accorded national honors was Ron Johnson in 1968.

SMELTZER AT GRID REINS

New Head Coach for Huron

Huron will try to swing upwards this season with a new head football coach.

The new man is Lee Smeltzer, 32, who hails from Addison High near Jackson. He inherits a team which went winless in 1968, emerging with an 0-8-1 won-lost-tied record.

Smeltzer does, however, have a flock of eager lettermen left over from Tom Grange's squad, including the backfield intact. There will be some changes made and a few experiments by the rookie Chief.

Last year's quarterback Tom Umin has been shifted from his spot right half to make way for Orville Suennick, a three-sports man who has shown he can run as well as toss the pigskin.

Two brothers - Therle and Glenn Dreganski - also are slated for backfield duties. Therle, a senior, is working out at the fullback slot while

All four grididders were in the thick of last year's struggles which frustrated Chief fans who failed to see a victory in the inaugural Huron Conference campaign.

Their dreams could turn into a reality this season.

Also back in the lineup are center Joe Richert and linemen Jerry Dulecki, Jack Gracia, Dan Dikes and Craig Adaline.

From a good crop of sophomores come Mike Wauer, a 6-foot-5, 190 pound

Romulus Looks Good On Paper

On paper, third year head Romulus football coach George Pratt has probably his best team. A veteran array of 19 lettermen including an experienced quarterback are only a few reasons why the Eagle strategist remains optimistic as the curtains prepare to go up for the 1969 campaign.

But paper is just that - paper. Whether he has a "Paper Eagle", which can be torn apart, will be told in the next few weeks.

"We've never looked so good so early in the season," confides Pratt and that's about all he's ready to confide as his team prepares to meet an always tough Livonia Franklin.

"We scrimmaged against a couple of teams and our boys proved they have the potential to come up winners," Pratt said.

Franklin, defending Northwest Suburban Conference champs guided by second year coach George Lovich again appears to have leftover talent that spells trouble for area teams.

Teh Patriots will pay Romulus a 3:30 p.m. visit to help the Eagles launch the grid year.

The key to any season, most coaches will agree, is keeping away from injuries. And Coach Pratt, although he lost veteran Paul Seestedt temporarily during last week's scrimmage on a knee injury, says his team is healthy and ready for battle.

He does have a problem that he would like resolved, however, before entering the Twin Valley Conference war--our backs are not hitting the right holes and this could be fatal if not corrected as soon as possible.

In scrimmage, moreover, quarterback Chris Glinski has shown he is in command. He finds his targets with relative ease and if he continues to show this ability - the Eagle aerial attack can develop into a potent weapon.

Also standouts in scrimmage were offensive guards Leon Janes and Tom Romak who also could spur Romulus visions of bettering their dismal 1-7-1 won-lost-tied record of the 1968 campaign.

Romulus also will deviate from its traditional practice of naming co-captains for the season, according to Coach Pratt. He said he will name two for each game to avoid some of the problems they've had in previous years.

With 19 lettermen back, and an alert signal-caller in Glinski, if the Eagles can stay healthy, Romulus should find its way into the winning columns more often than in previous seasons.

And that should be comforting to Romulus fans who are hungry for victory, let alone a title.

Most of Russia is above 50 degrees north latitude which would be about that of Winnipeg, Canada.

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN

A Pocket Full of Dreams

Ugh. I'm back.

Not, of course, of my own volition, but that of my pockets. I don't have to go into detail to tell you good folks out there what happens to the linings of one's pockets while on vacation-you've undoubtedly experienced that awesome sensation-but, gee, inflation is for real, isn't it?

So, back I've come, even if you're not happy to have me, to plug the holes caused by four-weeks of dreams. And, besides, I gotta work for who else would support my wife, my mother-in-law, and eight kids?

Before we plunge and lunge into the football scene, however, I would like to thank Jim Bradley, who religiously carried on the sports editor's duties during my absence, for a job well done.

And, special thanks also to "moonlighters" Manny Lentine and Joe LaScola who called "time out" from their myriad tasks to write a column for the Sports Meridian. Welcome to the Fourth Estate (whatever that is), gentlemen! You have proved worthy of membership.

Oh, yes, I did hear a good one from Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch, while in Tampa a couple of weeks ago. Hirsch, who was recently appointed athletic director at Wisconsin, allegedly authored this about our Alex Karras.

It seems that Karras, a 260-pound defensive tackle who's busy tipping over cars for Michigan Bankard these days, put a nickel in a parking meter and when the needle stopped at the 60 mark, Alex became alarmed.

"Good grief," said the Lion strongman, "I've lost 200 pounds."

Tampa?

Thought you were in Paris, Mr. Meridian?

Sports Loses a Friend

Closer to home, I was saddened to hear that an old friend, Fred Evans succumbed last week to injuries sustained from an auto accident. Evans was head of the athletic department at Edsel Ford High School in Dearborn for the past three years and was also the T-Birds swimming coach for several years.

It just doesn't seem possible that the personable Evans is gone.

I worked with Fred while I handled similar sports duties for weekly newspapers in Dearborn and there wasn't a finer guy or coach in the world. Never heard him say a mean thing about anyone. Some of the boys he coached also reached national fame, and his teams in the Huron-Rouge League and later in the Sauk Trail always were title contenders.

Strange what Fate has in store for some of us.

Howard Heads for Vicksburg

Also gone from the scene is Belleville's Marland Howard-who accepted a post as assistant principal and guidance director in Vicksburg. He asked me to convey this message on to you:

"Because my departure is on so short notice," writes Marland, "I will not have a chance to personally tell the folks and you 'goodbye and goodluck,' and perhaps the Sports Meridian could do this job for me.

"I would like also to thank you personally for the fine job and effort you have extended to our sports coverage. For someone who says that 'he doesn't know what he's talking about,' you do a 'damn good job'.

"I'm closing out 14 years of coaching which included tenures at Covert, Bayor and Belleville and we have had some excellent teams including state titles at both Covert and Bayor.

"The last four years I have been semi-retired, handling only track and reserved football at Belleville. However, Phil Newpert, and I have been working to come up with a respectful track team. And we believe we are developing a good one both area and statewide at Belleville.

"Boys like Mike Fant, Garrade Pettus, Larry Merritt, Jeff King, Jim Singleton, Jon Cross and Tony Ogletree and many others are not only talented but a pleasure to work with.

"I would like to publicly thank them and all those whom I have worked with over the past years-it has just been wonderful. Thank you."

Marland Howard.

And, thank you, Marland. We'll miss you.

Guess, I'm back in business, folks!

FLASHING TROPHIES—Members of the Van Buren White Sox squad flash their coveted first place trophies after claiming the championship recently.

Thunderbird 4-H Club News

Thunderbird 4-H members who participated in the recent 4-H Fair held in Belleville were Brian and Shalimar Beaty, Denise and David Pawlowski, Pam and Tim Katona, Gregg and Jeffrey Taskos all of Belleville, Marsha Gruden, Elliott and Rita Crews of Romulus, John and Kathy Shine of New Boston and Brian Lauzon of Windsor, Canada.

All members received Blue Ribbons in their respective classes.

Thunderbird club members and leaders are proud of Shalimar being chosen Wayne County 4-H Queen. Shalimar was crowned by her leader, Mrs. Christian Fiskher, the tiara which was presented to Shalimar will be passed on to the next 4-H Queen, John Shine, club president, presented Queen Shalimar with a bouquet of six red roses, one for every year Shalimar has been in 4-H. Miss Janie Hensley, Appaloosa Queen of Michigan gifted Shalimar with a tiny crown charm.

The Taylor Rangers 4-H Club of which Janie is also a member, presented Shalimar with a 4-H Clover charm.

LEADERS RECEIVING 4-H Plaques for Meritorious Service to 4-H are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kentala of New Boston. Kentala has been working as coach with the Wayne County 4-H Horse Judging Team for the past three years, he holds office in various 4-H organizations, plus being a Fair Board Member. Mrs. Kentala is treasurer for the Southwest District Leaders and has been very active in 4-H.

Mr. and Mrs. Esel Beaty of Belleville are also recipients of this Service plaque. Beaty is treasurer for the 4-H Horse Leaders Association and is also active in other 4-H groups as is Mrs. Beaty.

The August meeting was held at the home of Denise and David Pawlowski in Belleville, where plans were made for the Club's Seventh Annual Fall Round-up, ending the year's activities.

The Horse Show will start Sunday, September 28 at 10 a.m. with Leonard Glance of La Salle as judge.

The guest list will include Mrs. Glance, Mr. and Mrs. William Younglove and his family (Younglove is the new 4-H Youth Agent), Gerry Doede and his parents, and Larry Umstead and his parents.

Gerry and Larry are both former Thunderbird members. A delicious style pot-luck buffet will be served during the day's activities. The September meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fischer.

Equinox, Harvest Moon Are Highlights of Month

The autumnal equinox and the Harvest Moon are among the astronomical highlights of this month, according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

Autumn will arrive officially at 12:07 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 23. On this day the sun, which has been moving steadily southward, will cross the equator.

Contrary to the common belief, Prof. Losh points out, the day and night will not be of equal length on the day of autumnal equinox. This will come three days later, on the 26th, because of refraction, or the apparent lifting of the sun by the earth's atmosphere. From the 26th on, the daytime will grow steadily shorter.

The Harvest Moon, or the full moon that comes nearest the date of autumnal equinox, will rise on Sept. 25. The peculiarity of this full moon, as distinguished from others, is that the delay in its rising is slight from night to night, Prof. Losh explains.

This delay varies considerably during the year, because of the angle that the moon's path makes with the eastern horizon. The delay is the shortest in the fall, about 20 minutes, compared to more than an hour in the spring.

Consequently, the nearly full moon, rising at approximately the same hour for several successive nights, gives bright moonlight in the early evening for an unusual number of nights, a traditional aid to harvesters," Prof. Losh says.

The Harvest Moon is likely to appear larger than usual and reddish near the horizon. This is due to the earth's atmosphere, and not to the moon itself.

Among the constellations to watch during September is the Big Dipper, Prof. Losh notes. "The oldest and most talked about constellation may easily be traced in the northwestern sky just after dark, one of the first groups to make its appearance.

The two stars at the end of the bowl are very important, for they serve as pointers and a measuring stick. The line through these pointers extended to about five times its length ends close to Polaris, the North Star.

Other autumn constellations to watch are Perseus, the Hero; Pegasus, the Winged Horse, and Andromeda.

Season-long weed control in mint fields was found possible with a single, pre-emergence application of the chemical terbacil, according to M. L. Lacy, Michigan State University plant pathologist. This saves money in weed control and gives producers more time to take care of other production problems.

Population Explosion Worries Dearborn Prof

The approaching size of the human population and its evolving organization jeopardizes man's survival for more than a few hundred years unless fundamental social changes are achieved, says a University of Michigan-Dearborn sociologist.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the American Sociological Association in San Francisco on Sept. 3, Dr. Robert B. Smock, professor of sociology at UM-D, said man is deceiving himself if he thinks he "dominates" the earth.

His remarks were included in a paper, "The Social Necessity for the Concept of Ecological Dependency: Some Elements of An Applied Human Ecology," delivered at the association's meeting. Prof. Smock is Director of the Center for Urban Studies, a Dearborn Campus-based research unit.

"To be the stable dominant species, man must be sure that his waste products do not poison land, water or air. He does not know yet how to do that. He also must be sure that his numbers do not exceed the earth's space. He doesn't know how to do that yet, either," said Smock.

The UM-D sociologist warned that at the present rate of population growth, every square mile of the United States will be crowded by 10,000 Americans in just a few hundred years.

How can we take pride in "dominating" the earth, asked Smock, while we pollute it? Should locusts be proud when their number exceed resources until they are a plague? Should lemmings be proud when their excess numbers require them periodically to rush in suicidal hordes to the sea?

"In particular, we must decide on the population size we want, and then begin putting the brakes on present growth rates. Then we have to reorganize metropolitan populations so that they effect land, water and air in a way that supports life instead of polluting and threatening it," he said.

"It would be understandable if men facing flood, famine and disease were to make a goal of independence from nature," stated the UM-D professor. "To an ecologist, however, whose inclusive object of study is the ecosystem - a complex of interdependent communities and habitats - the idea of 'freedom from nature' is at best a serious misconception."

Any effort by man to do what he wants regardless of nature is a serious mistake.

Now we must master our environment, and our own human communities, or risk extinction.

Estimated Tax Installment Due

DETROIT — Individual taxpayers who filed declarations of estimated Federal income tax returns must pay the third quarter installment of tax due on their 1969 estimate by Monday, Sept. 15.

Taxpayers who first met the requirements for filing an estimate after June 1, 1969, but on or before Sept. 2, are required to file their estimates for 1969 on Form 1040-ES by Sept. 15 and pay at least one half of the tax by that date.

Order in Medicines Is Order of Day

Is there confusion in your medicine cabinet?

Are there old and leftover medicines tucked away in the pantry, stashed in the glove compartment of your car, forgotten on a shelf in the laundry room, on top of a bureau or in a drawer of the night table?

You can bring order out of confusion by a thorough cleanup at least twice a year, says the Council on Family Health. The Council is a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by leading members of the drug industry.

First, collect all of your medicines in one place. Be methodical. Check each package, bottle, jar, vial, box or tube.

AFTER YOU have flushed away unwanted medicines, wash out the empty containers before discarding them.

Then keep medicines in proper order in your medicine cabinet. Place medicines for internal use on one shelf, those for external use on another shelf and toiletries on lower shelves apart from medicines.

Do not store medicines in the grocery pantry or any other place where they may be confused with foods.

County Sifts Requests For Anti-Crime Funds

Approximately $3-million in crime control proposals from agencies in Wayne County are being sifted this week by a county-wide policy group which must set priorities in the scramble for Federal anti-crime funds.

Priorities must be set in time for submission to a seven-county policy group by Thursday, Sept. 11. In turn, the regional group will evaluate the proposals it receives from all seven counties and will recommend priorities to the Michigan Crime Control Commission.

At stake is $900,000 in Federal funds which the State commission will dispense this fall under the Federal Safe Streets and Crime Control Act of 1968.

Even bigger stakes will be involved after November when millions of dollars are expected to be available in Michigan under the crime control program.

Priorities for Wayne County will be set by the 14-member Policy Group of the Wayne County Coordinating Committee on Crime Control and Prevention.

All the programs proposed so far have been submitted by Wayne County and City of Detroit agencies.

They range from a $90,000 metropolitan crime laboratory proposed by the County Sheriff to a $608,800 congested area crime control units program proposed by the City of Detroit.

The City of Wyandotte has declared its intention to seek $1,500 for karate and aikido training for its police.

The Wayne County policy group, meeting Friday, Sept. 5, hired a firm of planning and urban consultants under a $43,000 planning grant to help evaluate the $3-million pile of proposals.

Four members of the County Board of Supervisors are members of the county-wide policy group. They are: Joseph F. Young, District 4, of Detroit; Robert L. Tripp, District 22, of Lincoln Park; Ralph Patrick Turco, District 25, of Westland; and Carl D. Pursell, District 26, of Plymouth.

Forecast for Metro Shows Busy Future

SPOTLIGHT ON METRO AIRPORT—At long last nearby Metro Airport is making its weight felt throughout the aviation industry. Already rated as one of the finest facilities in the world, projections being forecast indicate that Detroit air traffic will grow more than fourfold by 1985.

Air traffic at Detroit Metro Airport, based upon passengers boarded, will be more than four times as heavy in 1985 as in 1967, according to an airport Demand Forecast Study prepared by the airlines and presented to airport officials recently.

Dr. George W. James, vice president of economics and finance, of the Air Transport Association (ATA) cited the following forecast highlights.

The annual volume of domestic passengers boarded at Detroit in 1967 totaled 2,825,000, this figure will grow to 5,995,000 in 1975, to 9,610,000 in 1980 and the fantastic total of 531,000,000 by 1985.

Domestic air freight originating at Metro Airport is expected to set records also. In 1967, 53,000 tons of air freight took to the air from Metro.

By 1975, this will grow to an annual volume of 231,000 tons, 540,000 tons by 1980 and the unbelievable mark of 1,187,000 tons in 1985.

These forecasts projected for Detroit, as for the country as a whole, point up the need for an immediate start on a national program geared to producing airports and airways systems adequate to meet the growing demand for air transportation.

During the past years the airport authorities at Metro have worked with the airlines as they the airlines also have in other cities throughout the country to develop master plans for the orderly improvement and expansion of airports at the country's 22 major air hubs. This recent new study has been an effort to produce the most accurate and universally acceptable forecast of the traffic world load expected at major air centers which at the present times account for about two-thirds of the nation's air traffic.

The demand was developed by specialists from the Air Transport Association and the airlines, in cooperation with many aircraft manufacturers, local airport authorities and the Federal Government. National results were presented to Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe on August 15.

Key finds in the results as a whole were that Domestic passengers boarding airlines will reach 266 million in 1975 and 669 million by 1985. Last year there were approximately 146 million domestic passengers boardings in the United States.

Tons of air freight originated in these major air hubs will skyrocket from about 1.4 million last years to 25.2 million by 1985. At Metro Airport the heavy movement air cargo is already very evident. Some of the top air freight carriers in the nations are flying one or more cargo flights from Metro every day. American Airlines, United, Trans World, Pan American, Flying Tigers, Delta Airlines, Northwest Orient airlines will have special jet air-freighters on regular scheduled cargo flights.

The air freight segment of the aviation industry has excelled in leaps and bounds far beyond the dreams of any projection a few years ago and newer and larger air freight aircraft are being made to handle this fabulous side of aviation.

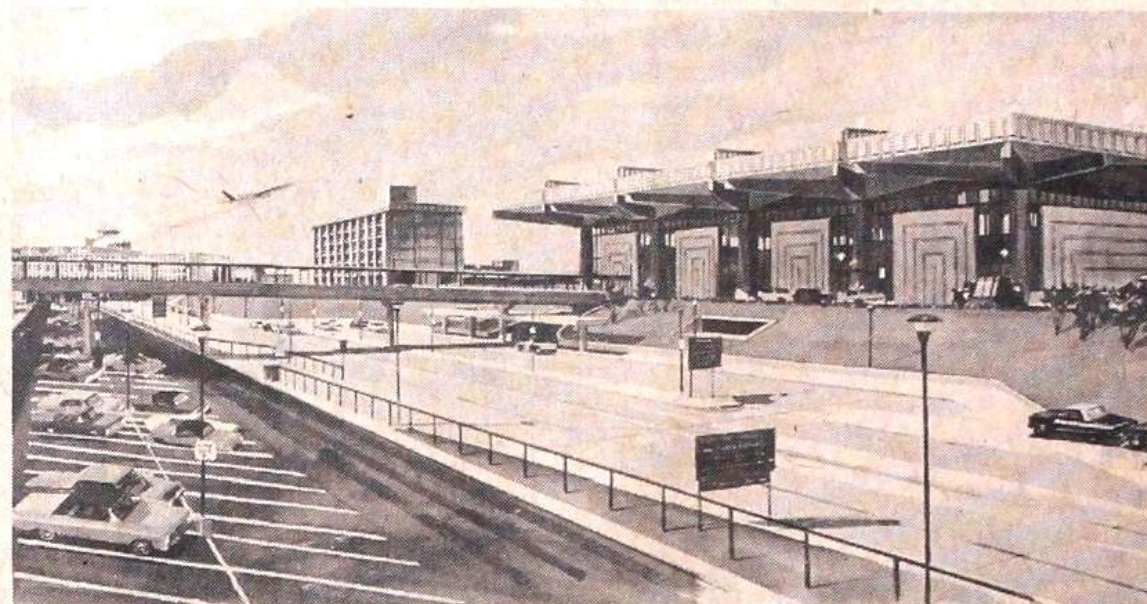

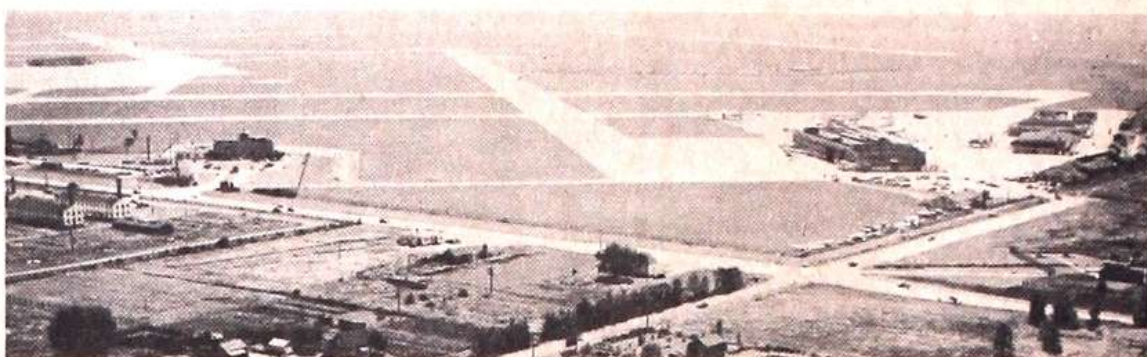

In addition to the specific demand forecast for Detroit, other specific demand forecasts are being released this month for Seattle, Atlanta, Miami, Ft. Lauderdale and Philadelphia. Others will be released later for Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Los Angeles, New York and Washington.

The new expansion program in effect here at Metro is an all out effort to keep pace with this tremendous projection for the near future of air travel and air cargo. New buildings, runways and major facilities are already past the drawing board stage and fast becoming reality.

METRO GROWS WITH YEARS—The scene at nearby Metro Airport is a far cry from the top photo taken 20 years ago when the airport was a little over one square mile in area. Today there are two major air terminals servicing 16 airlines, a 200 room hotel, cargo facilities and air traffic averaging over 1000 landings and take offs per day. Current expansion is already in progress to be completed during the next 10 years to rank Metro Airport as one of the finest air complexes in the world.

FLYING SAUCER—One could almost visualize an UFO approaching with first glance at this picture by Bill Balogh. Actually the picture was taken by leaving the shutter open on the camera as a jet airliner made its landing approach at the airport.

Hopes Fade for Life On Mars and Venus

The possibility of an earth-like environment on either of this planet's nearest solar neighbors, Mars and Venus, is fading fast.

Jet Propulsion laboratory scientists, jubilant about the excellent quality of data and TV sent back over more than 60 million miles by the Mariner 6 and 7 spacecraft, say that a Martian, were he to approach the Earth, "would feel much more at home on the moon."

JPL's Allen Wood said that the Mariners have indicated that Mars "is not as conducive to life as was once imagined."

Woods said, "Mariner 6 has proven that no nitrogen exists, but that there is water vapor. The pictures reveal that the surface is more moon-like than heretofore believed."

The spacecraft's infra-red spectrometer indicated an equatorial noon surface heat of 75 degrees (F.).

It's infra-red radiometer reported, however, a noon high reading of only 68 degrees (F.).

"Nighttime lows," Woods said, "could reach minus 118 degrees (F.)." The thin Martian atmosphere, mostly carbon dioxide, reveals traces of water vapor, very little oxygen, and particles of xenon.

Famed Plane Gets a Rest

A refurbished Douglas DC-2, one of the two such airplanes still surviving in the U.S., and an immediate, direct ancestor of the famed Douglas DC-3 series, has been flown from Santa Monica, Calif., to Columbia by Colgate Darden, III, an airplane collector. The airplane will be a permanent fixture at the collector's private airstrip near the city.

Two Weeks, Too Long In Space USSR Scientists Say

Soviet space scientists, concerned with interplanetary travel, have determined that two weeks of weightlessness is the maximum limit which a space crew can undergo without suffering loss of operational efficiency. The scientists stated further that they will plan for artificial gravity as an "integral part" of their proposed manned space voyages. Some American space experts believe the Soviets, far from being "behind" the U.S., could be in a position to launch a manned deep-space probe by middle 1970's or, at the latest the early '80's.

British Study Floating Airport

(LONDON, England)—British engineers are currently exploring the possibilities for the development of floating runways for giant airlines. The study, being made by a joint team of two of Britain's foremost engineering firms, are considering islands made of concrete and expanded polystyrene. The study has financial backing from Shell Oil. The engineers believe that if the airport-islands are designed so that their width is related to the length of waves encountered, it might be possible to use slots and dampening devices to ensure all-weather steadiness. The proposed islands might be prefabricated and floated into position.

Reds' Cattle Take to Air

Russian cattle are heading for new pastures of "sweet and lucious grass." The Soviet "dogies" are riding a sky-high "range" aboard Aeroflot's Antonov AN-12 turbo-prop airfreighters and huge MIL Mi-6 helicopters.

The cattle are being ferried from the Ferghana Valley of Uzbekistan, in Central Asia, to pastures in 7,000-foot high mountains. "Cone," Aeroflot lament, "are the picturesque cattle drives, for they cause the animals to lose weight on the week-long walks. Flights to the "lucious grass" takes an hour and a half.

Air Cargo Up In First Half

Domestic air cargo flown by the 11 U.S. trunk, nine local service, and two all-cargo carriers gained 15.3 per cent during the first half of 1969 compared with the same half of 1968, the Air Transport Association has reported. The carriers accounted for 1,237,195,000 revenue ton miles of air freight, mail, and express service.

BOAC's 747's Scheduled For Summer 1970

(LONDON, England)—The British Overseas Airways Corporation (BOAC) expects to receive the first of its Boeing 747's by late spring, 1970. It plans to put three of the giant airplanes in service on the New York run by early summer in time for the season's transatlantic tourist traffic. In 1971, BOAC's 747's will enter service on Canadian, South African, and Far Eastern schedules. The British airline has ordered a total of twelve 747's.
